Faubus Sees Opening Of Schools Soon

Frankfurter Warns Lawlessness Could Result In Anarchy

By The Associated Press. Plans are being made to provide educational facilities for some of the 17,000 youngsters idled by school closings in Arkansas and Virginia and the dynamiting of the high school at Clinton, Tenn. Fourteen schools are shut down in the three states. In several sections, legal fighting continued between state and federal authorities while statements on the integration crisis came from Washington and Florida.

Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter asked Monday for a constructive use of time in school integration in general but said that lawlessness if not checked is the forerunner of anarchy. He issued an opinion concurring with the court's unanimous decision in the Little Rock case last week.

In Little Rock, Gov. Orval E. Faubus expressed belief that private all-white schools would be in operation by mid-October. He made the statement a few hours after an appellate court in St. Louis extended until Oct. 15 a ban on operation of the four high schools as private, segregated institutions.

Dr. T. J. Roney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp., said his group planned to begin operating as soon as possible in private buildings with private donations without waiting for the Oct. 15 federal court decision. At Clinton, state and federal authorities continued searching for clues to the identity of the dynamiters while 850 high school pupils, including 11 Negroes, prepared to shift classes to an elementary school at Oak Ridge six miles from Clinton.

Principal W. D. Human said as he outlined plans to send the youngsters to Oak Ridge by bus, probably starting Thursday. The Atomic Energy Commission authorized use of the vacant school at Oak Ridge because some children of AEC employees attended Clinton.

Clinton High was integrated by federal court order two years ago. Several incidents occurred the first year but the situation quieted down later.

In Virginia, Duncan C. Gibbs, chairman of a citizens' committee which formed an educational foundation in Warren County, said juniors and seniors of the closed high school at Front Royal would start emergency classes Wednesday. Eight other schools in Charlottesville and Norfolk remained closed.

Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan refused to dismiss a suit seeking admission of 14 Negroes to two white high and three elementary schools in Alexandria, Va. He set Oct. 30 as the date for arguments in the case.

Soldier Nabbed, AWOL 10 Years

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—An American soldier absent without leave in Communist Romania for 10 years remained under Army arrest here today.

Army spokesmen had no comment on the case of Private Jonathan J. Morris, 42, who went AWOL from the 1st Signal Company of the 1st Infantry Division Nov. 11, 1948, while stationed in Germany.

Reds Ignore Pope

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Pope's illness has not been reported so far in the Soviet Union.

Hailed By Rickover

A-Sub Crew Health Reported Excellent

By WILLIAM D. CLARK. NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI)—The men of the atomic submarine Seawolf went through 60 days of isolation from the earth's atmosphere with little or no harm to their health, the sub's medical officer said today.

Lt. Cmdr. John H. Ebersold said the 11 officers, 94 enlisted men and one civilian who made the record underwater cruise that ended Monday were in excellent physical shape.

He said there had been a few colds and other minor ailments during the long voyage, but no major illnesses.

No great psychological problems arose from the men's isolation, either, Ebersold said, and so far as he could tell, the only tensions felt by any of the men had to do with worry over the welfare of their families. The Seawolf pulled into its home base here late Monday. It left here Aug. 7 on a cruise that took it more than 15,000 nautical miles submerged.

Rickover Greets Ship. Rear Adm. Hyman C. Rickover, known as "the father of the atomic submarines," said in welcoming ceremonies as the Seawolf docked that the sub's historic cruise, along with the voyage under the North Pole icecap of the Nautilus and Skate, had "opened a whole area of the world to exploitation."

Rickover added that "sober reflection should be given to the fact that this area is open to potential aggressors also."

The Seawolf's skipper, Richard B. Laning, was promoted from commander to captain at just about the time the sub surfaced Monday off Block Island, R. I., at 11:45 a.m. e.d.t.

He said at a press conference in New London Monday night that the Seawolf actually could have stayed undersea up to twice as long as the record it set.

A chief purpose of the marathon cruise was to show that man can stand up under the mental and physical strain of isolation similar to that which would occur in a flight into outer space.

Eisenhower Seen Ready To Lay Prestige On Line In Campaign

By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently is eager to lay his prestige heavily on the line in a stepped-up congressional campaign he says may decide the fate of "moderate government."

His White House pep meeting with GOP leaders Monday produced strong signs that he will bear down on the twin issues of socialism and higher taxes in a forthcoming chins-up tour to stir up Republican voters.

At the same time, he made it clear he is ready to take on all Democratic critics of the manner in which he has handled the crisis over Quemoy and Matsu.

Gain Shown By Pontiff, Hope Rising

Pope Takes Solid Food, Improvement Cited By Doctors

By FRANK BRUTTO. CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII continues to show improvement, an official medical bulletin announced today.

The bulletin, third released since the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was felled by a cerebral stroke Monday, indicated the pontiff's tremendous continuing resistance to the inroads of illness.

Hope For Recovery

For the first time since the stroke partially paralyzed the Pope some 26 hours before, there was cautious expression of hope that he could recover.

Even so, his condition continued to be regarded as grave.

The bulletin, read in the square outside the Pope's summer residence, said:

"The condition of His Holiness, in general, continued to improve throughout the night. His senses appear to be completely lucid. There are no signs of failure of the movements. Last night the hiccup (with which the Pope has been troubled for a week) again reappeared, but they disappeared early this morning."

Earlier Msgr. Angelo dell'Acqua, the Vatican substitute secretary of state, told newsmen the Pope had spent a quiet night and "his improvement is satisfactory and progressive."

One of the attending doctors, Prof. Ermanno Mingazzini, said the Pope this morning had been able to take solid food — some shredded chicken in thin broth — for the first time since the stroke. Mingazzini also said a kidney block which developed Monday had been overcome.

The bulletin was signed by the Pope's personal physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi; Antonio Gasbarrini, a specialist from Bologna; Mingazzini; and Ferdinando Corelli.

Scores Maintain Vigil

Scores of persons maintained a vigil outside the palace in this hill town 18 miles south of Rome. Thousands of messages of hope for his recovery poured into the Vatican. Around the world prayers were said.

The Pope suffered a blocking of blood to the brain soon after saying mass and receiving communion Monday. He fell into a coma and was partially paralyzed. Extreme Junction, the last rite of the Roman Catholic Church, was given, and members of his family were summoned.

Later in the day the pontiff rallied, and a bulletin at night said his condition had "appreciably improved" so far as the circulatory disturbances were concerned.

Baltimore Shipyard To Build Freighters

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 37 million dollar contract to build four freighters has been awarded to Bethlehem Steel Company's Sparrows Point Shipyard.

Announcement yesterday of the contract said the ships would be constructed for Lykes Brothers Steamship Co. and the Maritime Administration. A spokesman for the maritime board said details would not be ironed out until Oct. 30.

Janice Rakes Bahamas And Heads To Sea

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Janice lashed the Bahama Islands with 75-mile-an-hour winds before churning into the open sea and leaving at least one dead and uncounted damage in its wake.

An unidentified sailboat skipper was believed to have drowned in Nassau Harbor when waves swamped his 15-foot dinghy. Witnesses saw the man, estimated to be in his late 30's, swimming in the swirling waters before he disappeared.

From other parts of the city, a favorite for honeymooners and tourists, there were reports of power lines down, unmanned boats destroyed and houses and cars damaged.

The center of the storm passed about 30 to 40 miles west of Nassau shortly after noon Monday. At 11 p.m., it was located at latitude 26.5 north, longitude 78.1 west, or some 250 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

Miami weather forecasters said no U. S. coastal areas were in immediate danger.

They said the storm was moving northeastward at 15 miles an hour. Some decrease in forward movement was reported and the storm was expected to undergo a slight increase in intensity.

Steel Strike Seen In 1959

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—An industry editor predicted today there is a better than 65-35 chance for a long and bitter steel strike next year.

"We look for a tough bargaining session between the steelworkers' union and the steel firms," said Tom Campbell, editor of the Iron Age, national metalworking weekly.

In a speech at a meeting of the National Wholesale Hardware Assn. and National Assn. of Sheet Metal Distributors, he said that the result of a stalemate in bargaining "would be a strike which might last as long as six to eight weeks."

BOAC Jet Ship Crosses Atlantic In Speedy Time

LONDON (UPI)—A BOAC Comet four jet airliner flew from New York to London today in six hours 32 minutes on a proving flight, it was announced here.

The pilot, Captain James Linton said "it was not a particularly fast journey. We were at 40,000 feet and the tail winds were not so strong as they were at 30,000 feet; but we could not ask for a smoother journey."

There were 49 non-paying passengers aboard; most of them airline staff.

Sheriff Pays Speeding Fine

CAMDEN, Del. (AP)—Sheriff Nathan Kaplan of Cecil County, Md., was fined $50 and costs last night for speeding.

A Delaware state trooper told Magistrate Maurice W. Callow that he took out after a speeding car and could not gain on it while going 100 m.p.h. He said he went up to 120 m.p.h. and overtook Kaplan's car.

White Collar Workers Set For Walkout

DETROIT (UPI)—More than 8,000 Chrysler Corp. office workers may go on strike Wednesday throughout the nation unless an agreement on a new contract is reached before then.

Walter Webber, president of United Auto Workers Local Union 889, said the office workers have picked Wednesday as a deadline for talks on a new contract to cover salaried employees of the company covered by union contracts.

But Douglas Fraser, administrative aide to UAW President Walter P. Reuther and the union's Executive Board, which has the authority, has not set one.

"I believe that Webber meant to say the office workers would recommend to the board that a strike deadline be set for Wednesday," a union spokesman said. "But no board meeting is scheduled before then so the board can not receive any recommendation to that effect."

Missouri Man To Head Church

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—William Wallace Smith of Independence was ordained Monday night as fifth president of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Smith, 57, succeeds his brother Israel, who was killed in a traffic accident June 14.

The new president is the spiritual head of nearly 170,000 communicants in the United States, Canada and several other countries.

Report Shows Boost In Business Failures

NEW YORK (AP)—Business failures for the week ended Thursday rose above 300 for the first time in more than three months, Dun & Bradstreet Inc. reported today.

The total was 301 compared with 268 the previous week and 261 in the like week of 1957.

For the week ended June 26 there were 333 failures.

Jet Pilot Prepares For Balloon Flight

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—A 25-year-old jet pilot was ready to take off today in a balloon on a new jaunt to the stratosphere.

Lt. Clifton McClure, jammed in a 3x3-foot metal capsule full of instruments, prepared for another Man High flight.

This third probe of the edge of space, like the second last year, was aimed at about 100,000 feet—20 miles above the earth.

Hopes were that this young military scientist, who holds a master's degree in ceramic engineering from Clemson College, could stay up there 24 hours.

A battery of experts in space medicine, physiology, meteorology, astronomy, space psychology and psychiatry will grill him constantly while he floats high above the earth.

British Judge Will Rule On Marquis Plea

LONDON (AP)—The Marquis of Milford Haven was told by a judge today he must wait at least two weeks before learning whether his Mexican divorce can be recognized in England.

The tall, dark, 39-year-old British blueblood—best man at the wedding of Prince Philip and Queen Elizabeth II—is reported ready to marry film actress Eva Bartok as soon as he is legally free.

Milford Haven is asking the divorce court to declare his divorce valid in England. His American ex-wife, the former Mrs. Romaine Simpson, flew to Chihuahua, Mexico, for 24 hours in 1954 and obtained a decree on grounds of incompatibility.

Britain does not recognize Mexican divorces. But the marquis counsel argued that English courts recognize New York divorces and New York courts recognize Mexican divorces, so a decree held valid in New York should be valid here.

Judge Arthian Davies adjourned the case until "not before Oct. 20."

Miss Bartok divorced her fourth husband, German actor Kurt Jurgens, in November 1956.

Ike Sends Personal Message To Pontiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has sent Pope Pius XII a personal message expressing hope for the pontiff's early recovery.

The White House said today the message was delivered Monday in Washington to the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States.

Hotel Strike Talks Resume

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—State Mediation Director Charles T. Douds said today he would resume exploratory talks with both sides in an effort to find some area of agreement for settling the city's seven-day hotel strike.

Douds, along with conciliators Joe Bach and Jerry Goff, met first with management Monday to re-evaluate its position in the strike which began last Wednesday. Later they met with union representatives.

The mediators indicated they found no signs of weakening by either side.

Lebanon Troops Fire On Rebels

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Lebanese army troops fired on anti-government mobs manning barricades blocking the main road to Damascus today. At least 20 persons were reported injured.

It was the worst outbreak of violence since Christian Phalangist supporters of ex-President Camille Chamoun called a general strike against the government 15 days ago.

It came on the heels of a tommygun attack by terrorists on a crowded bus in the heart of Beirut.

Red Planes Over Island Fired Upon

Shelling Stopped, U. S. Will Give Up Escorting Vessels

By WARREN ROGERS JR. WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, taking its time, is expected within a day or two to quit convoying Nationalist Chinese supply ships in the Formosa Strait.

The order to the U.S. 7th Fleet is to be based on the absence of Communist shelling — not on the condition laid down in Red China's offer Sunday to cease firing for one week provided U. S. convoy operations halted.

Officials drew that fine line of distinction to emphasize two points:

1. That Red China started the trouble with six weeks of almost continuous bombardment of Quemoy, and could ease tensions any time, without conditions, simply by stopping the shooting.

Officials Gratified

2. That U.S. convoying has been strictly in international waters, and nobody tells the United States what to do on the high seas.

Officials were gratified at the Red Chinese offer. But they were not unaware that it contained a number of diplomatic-propaganda hooks.

A determination to avoid getting snagged on any of them explained why the United States was taking its own good time about ordering a suspension of the convoy.

That was clear in a State Department statement welcoming the Peiping bid. Noting that no firing would mean "no further necessity for the convoy," the statement said: "This question is being given careful consideration."

Antiaircraft Guns Fire At Red Planes

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese antiaircraft guns on Quemoy punctuated the cease-fire in the Formosa Strait this afternoon, firing on eight Communist planes which flew over the offshore island.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Red aircraft did not attack and were not hit by the Nationalist fire. They flew back toward the mainland.

The Quemoy antiaircraft batteries were the first guns to go off in the area since the Communists proclaimed a seven-day cease-fire, effective 40 hours before.

Observers in Taipei did not consider the Quemoy truce had necessarily been broken, since the earlier Communist announcement had spoken only of halting the artillery bombardment against besieged Quemoy and the neighboring Nationalist islets.

U.S. Navy ships escorted more supplies to Quemoy today, again defying the Red demand that the cease-fire be accompanied by a halt to the American convoying.

The Reds had announced they would halt their attacks on the islands for a week beginning Sunday.

Justice Burton Leaving Court Post Next Week

By JOHN H. AVERILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Harold H. Burton is retiring next Monday after 13 years on the Supreme Court—opening the way for the court's first Eisenhower-appointed majority.

The White House announced the 70-year-old jurist's unexpected request for retirement Monday night a short time after the court opened its regular fall term.

The announcement gave no indication of whom President Eisenhower might name as a successor to Burton or how soon he might act.

Burton, a Republican, wrote Eisenhower he was retiring "with regret but in accordance with competent medical advice and with a desire to serve the best interests of all concerned." Burton's two-paragraph letter didn't elaborate.

Approving the request, Eisenhower praised Burton for "devoted and dedicated public service." Eisenhower's appointment of a successor will be his fifth to the nine-man court.

Except for his selection of Chief Justice Warren—a former California governor and twice an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination—Eisenhower has picked Supreme Court judges from other judicial posts.

Of the three other Eisenhower appointees, Justices John M. Harlan and Charles Evans Whitaker were federal appeals court judges and Justice William J. Brennan was a member of the New Jersey State Supreme Court.

With Burton leaving, the court has five Democratic and three Republican members, the latter being former President Truman. The other three were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are Justices Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter and William O. Douglas.

Burton's retirement leaves the court with only one justice, Tom C. Clark, who was appointed by former President Truman. The other three were named by Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are Justices Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter and William O. Douglas.

Theodore Roosevelt made his first trip to Europe at the age of 11. He spent his time visiting museums of natural history.

Court's Rule Deferred In School Case

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A federal circuit court has taken under advisement a request that a 16-year-old Negro girl be barred from attending the previously all-white Great Mills, Md., High School.

The three judges on the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals heard arguments on the case yesterday. St. Mary's County school officials said the presence of the girl, Joan Elaine Groves, in the high school interferes with the county's program of gradual integration.

Mrs. Juanita Mitchell of Baltimore, attorney for the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, noted that the Negro pupil is a senior this year. Therefore, she said, the girl won't be able to enjoy the right to a desegregated education after this year.

Joan was admitted to the Great Mills school Sept. 4 without incident after Federal District Judge Roszel Thomsen rejected the county's petition to delay her admission.

The girl's 14-year-old brother, Conrad, enrolled in the ninth grade in the same building this fall, but there was no dispute in this case because the county technically has desegregated through the ninth grade.

Tobacco Shop's Owner Prepared His Own Blend

PORTSMOUTH, England (UPI)—Doctors who blame diseases on cigarettes might look at the pipe tobacco Frederick McMahon had on hand.

Testimony in court Monday showed pipe tobacco sold in McMahon's cigar store contained stained paper, metal foil, burned tobacco and dirt.

McMahon was fined $70 for possessing tobacco containing substances not authorized by customs. He said he made the tobacco by stripping down cigarettes that had been in his shop a long time.

Wayne Daughter Has Baby Girl

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor John Wayne's 22-year-old daughter, Toni, gave birth to a 7 pound 6 ounce girl Monday, making the swashbuckling film star a grandfather for the first time.

The baby was born at St. Joseph Hospital in nearby Burbank to the former Miss Wayne, now the wife of Donald LaCava, an executive in Balzac Productions.

Leasing Equipment Latest Methodist To Beat Tax Laws

NEW YORK (AP)—Leasing equipment for a factory or store instead of buying outright has won new adherents in the recession and today is reported more appealing than ever to businessmen eyeing the recovery under way.

It is the latest comer to this field of business management, joining the better known forms of leasing cars, trucks or real estate. Tax laws have given leasing one of its biggest boosts. But the rate at which automation and scientific research have made older machinery obsolete is tempting still more companies to look into the leasing method of financing the retooling of plants with expensive but competitive machinery.

Long-term equipment leasing (for three years or more) has grown since 1950 and is now estimated to be a 166 million dollar a year business. The present trend in business planning leads leasing's friends to predict it will reach the billion dollar a year mark within five years.

Whole plants, or divisions or departments are included in the activity as well as special installations in existing setups. The tax laws enter in because high rates on company-owned equipment cut down the cost of leasing. Tax depreciation schedules also mean that in this fast-paced age machinery may go obsolete before it can be written off the books. To buy the new equipment to meet competition, the treasurer must dig up new working capital and this has stayed pretty tight for most companies since the war.

To see what business thinking was in this field, the Foundation for Management Research, Chicago, queried 1,837 companies from coast to coast. These include 44 lines of manufacturing, wholesale and retail firms, with total gross assets of 400 million dollars. Individual annual sales of the companies range from $250,000 to a billion dollars.

The survey specifically excluded cars, trucks and real estate and any equipment leasing for less than three years.

The foundation reports to the United States Leasing Corp., San Francisco, that in 1950 only 12 of the 1,837 companies were leasing some equipment. By last year 89 were leasing equipment and 71 of these were leasing equipment worth $50,000 or more.

The future looks brighter. The foundation says 833, or 45 per cent, reported they are considering leasing in future, with 483 planning to do so within five years.

Oil Man Wins In Suit Filed By His Secretary

NEW YORK (UPI)—A $2,500,000 suit brought by an attractive secretary against oilman Walter S. Hallanan, Republican national committeeman from West Virginia, was dismissed Monday in state Supreme Court.

Justice Joseph A. Gavanagh said the claim made by Antoinette Supplee, 32, against Hallanan, 68, president of Plymouth Oil Company, was unenforceable because Miss Supplee was unable to produce a written contract.

The plaintiff claimed she and Hallanan entered into an oral contract in 1957 calling on her to serve him as secretary and companion for $1,000 a week and a $2,500,000 trust fund to ensure an income for the rest of her life.

In his ruling, Gavanagh noted the law specifically requires written terms for any lifetime contract.

Miss Supplee said in her suit that she promised Hallanan she "would not accept a proposal of marriage from an international known professional person" in return for the contract. Hallanan denied making the deal, saying "any man who would offer such a job at such a salary ought to have his head examined."

Gavanagh also noted that according to Miss Supplee, Hallanan gave her the right to cancel out after a year. The judge said this was evidence of "a trial arrangement, which, if anything, is more abhorrent to morals and law" than "the kind of servitude envisaged by such lifetime servitude."

Miss Supplee said Hallanan only paid her $1,000 and then defaulted on their contract. Her attorney said she would appeal.

So when Russell Kepple, 40, and his wife Agnes went out to look for a new home, they left Francis to keep watch in their apartment.

When they got home, Kepple told police, their apartment was in a mess. Missing was a coin collection, jewelry and appliances, which Kepple valued at $1,655.

Francis, he said, was asleep in the kitchen.

Admiral Urges Chiang Support

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, has called for continued support of the Nationalist Chinese in the Formosa crisis.

To appease the Communists' desire for the offshore islands now "would only whet their appetite for a bigger bite of real estate later, for the Communist objective of eventual world domination is well known," Burke said.

Burke told midshipmen of the first class at the Naval Academy last night that to be respected as a leader a nation or an individual must be willing to act in accordance with his belief.

Ship Officer Strike Ended

NEW YORK (UPI)—Merchant ship officers called off their six-day strike Monday night, freeing an estimated 60 vessels.

A spokesman for the United States Lines said the liners' sail on their next scheduled departure dates, Oct. 16 and Oct. 23.

The strike was ended through the good offices of AFL-CIO President George Meany, who stepped in as arbitrator of the dispute between the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots (AFL-CIO) and 20 major East and Gulf Coast ship operators represented by the American Merchant Marine Institute.

day midnight if the Americans stopped escorting the Chinese Nationalist supply ships. But Monday and again today they offered no opposition to Nationalist convoys which still were shepherded by ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet to the three-mile limit off Quemoy.

Supplies also were dropped on Quemoy from Nationalist C-46 transports.

Reports from Washington said it was expected there the American escort operations would be suspended in a day or two, and that the suspension would continue as long as the cease-fire did.

The Nationalists had virtually no expectation that the Reds would prolong the truce beyond the one-week period they set themselves. The local air was filled with predictions of major Communist military action when the period expires Sunday midnight—or even before.

Nationalist intelligence sources reported that the Communists had been commandeering motorized junks along the China coast from Hong Kong area northward for a possible invasion of the Quemoy. The Reds were reported to have ordered that none of the crewmen should be under 25 years of age because only experienced men were wanted.

Reports to the Defense Ministry said since the halt in the artillery war, 1,500 workers had been seen repairing old gun emplacements and building new ones on the Communist island fortress of Amoy, six miles from Quemoy.

Half Of Pupils Stay Home As School Opens

WHEELWRIGHT, Ky. (UPI) — Nearly half of Wheelwright High School's 650 students stayed away from classes Monday as the school re-opened after a three-day closure following a tiff between a white girl and a Negro girl.

The fight in a student "hang-out" near the school and the resultant suspension of each apparently touched off a stone-throwing, jeering demonstration by a crowd of students outside the school Wednesday. About four windows of the building were broken by stones.

Six state policemen and Floyd County sheriff's deputies were on hand Monday to guard against any outbreaks as classes resumed. About 100 persons assembled outside the school.

None of the five Negro girls students enrolled at the school, which was integrated three years ago, showed up.

Principal Boone Hall, who rejected demands by opponents of integration that he resign, said absenteeism ranged from three of 46 missing in some classes to 46 out of 95 absent in the senior class. He said about a dozen seniors were in the crowd that assembled outside the building.

Wheelwright High has had a few Negroes in the senior class since 1955, all of them girls. It has several courses not offered at the town's all-Negro high school.

LAKEWOOD, N. J. ## More Americans Chomping Way Along Road To Obesity

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — More and more Americans are chomping happily along the road to obesity. There is a simple reason, a psychologist says — the cruel world has denied them the chance to manipulate love, career or status in other vital things to their absolute liking.

And the psychologist who has documented this explanation adds: "The persons who overeat desperately need to have ultimate control over their environment. They are the positive kind of human being."

"Eating is the only part of the environment in which they can be absolute dictators. They don't need the cooperation of other persons to gain satisfaction. And they can turn it on or off at will."

Psychologist Paul Fine bases these observations on a continuing probe into the nation's eating habits.

The study, by the Center For Research In Marketing, a motivational research factory in Peekskill, N. Y., has been in progress for a year. The 400 subjects being studied represent a scientific cross-section of the nation.

Problem Will Grow
That is, they are white collar, blue collar, male, female, old, middle-aged, adolescent and pint-sized human beings subjected to the stresses and strains of living.

The need to control something by yourself is staggering, apparently. Based on preliminary findings, Fine believes that the excess poundage problem, like the national deficit, will grow and grow.

Millionaires Wooing Voter In New York

Gov. Harriman Joins Rockefeller In Drive To Gain Governorship

By JAMES DEVLIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Remember the tycoon who once said "The public be damned!"?

William H. Vanderbilt, the New York Central railroad baron who so spoke, would be astounded today to see New York's two multimillionaire candidates for governor wooing the people from Long Island to Niagara Falls.

Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, of another rail fortune, and Republican challenger Nelson A. Rockefeller, of the oil millions, have a concept exactly opposite Vanderbilt's.

Dedicated To Public Career
They are dedicated to public careers. To further them, they are glad-handing anyone eligible, to vote Nov. 4.

Both candidates stress informality despite — or perhaps because of — their immense social prestige and wealth. Harriman's fortune is estimated at more than 60 million dollars and Rockefeller's at more than 100 million.

Until the weather turned chilly, the candidates frequently went about in slacks, open-necked shirts and loafers.

Typical of the down-to-earth approach was Rockefeller's recent hand-shaking tour of a Jewish section of the lower east side. He entered a delicatessen, bought a salami and walked down the street with it.

Harriman also works at the art of the smile and the handshake — and has had four more years of practice than Rockefeller. Harriman, seeking his second term, was first elected in 1954.

Rockefeller, naturally buoyant and cheery, and Harriman, reserved in appearance but equally gracious, have things in common besides their campaign techniques and their rich heritages.

Both have long been interested in public service.

Former Ambassador

Harriman, 66, formerly was ambassador to Moscow and London and secretary of commerce, among other high federal posts. Rockefeller, 50, served in appointive positions in the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

Rockefeller, riding in a campaign cavalcade, waves both hands Eisenhower-style to passersby with particular attention to persons leaning out of top floor windows of tenements.

He is getting accustomed to the rough and tumble of politics and he has injected a note of glamor into his campaign.

He is accompanied on trips in the New York metropolitan area by 11 young women, known as the Rockettes. They wear blue sweaters, white skirts and carry batons with white pom-poms.

Each sweater has a letter, so that when the young women stand in a row, they spell out "R-O-C-K-E-F-E-L-L-E-R."

Fascinating Work But Pay Is Meager

LONDON (UPI) — An advertisement in the personal column of The Times today offered "meager pay, fascinating work." It was seeking a choirmaster for Wormwood Scrubs Prison.

Dogs Run Free

ROME (UPI) — Rome's stray dogs ran free all weekend in memory of St. Francis of Assisi. The dog catchers took 48 hours off to commemorate the festival of the saint who loved animals and birds.

Digging of the Erie Canal started at Rome, N. Y., on July 4, 1817.

When you ask these plump persons to go on a diet, it's akin to ordering an absolute monarch off the throne, Fine suggested, adding: "They don't want to be told that they must surrender their right to eat what they want, when they want, and in whatever quantity suits them."

Going on a diet means, he explained, that these persons must become passive by putting the instrument for their satisfaction in the hands of someone else — a doctor, a nutritionist, a nagging wife, a bossy husband.

Cites Exception
"Oh, these people go on diets now and then," he said, "but it only lasts so long. They may lose weight, but when the need to assert can no longer be quieted, they say 'to heck with you' and start eating again."

The exception to this comes when dieting creates a new situation in which the person is given a chance to easily achieve success and gratification.

As an example of the latter, Fine cited adolescent girls who were unpopular with boys and other schoolmates because of plumpness. When the pounds came off, they tended to stay off if the new figure made for success in manipulating the environment.

Justice Unit Raps State Police In Handling Warrants

By WILLIAM B. HARWOOD

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Criminal Justice Commission today charged the Maryland State Police, and its executive officer in particular, of usurping judicial powers and of violating established regulations in its handling of three traffic warrants which went unserved for 14 months.

At the same time, the commission requested the House of Delegates to investigate "indications of other improprieties" by using for the second time in its history the unique power to convene a "grand inquest" so that it can subpoena witnesses and records not fair and impartial.

The other State Police improprieties, the commission said, were "use of improper influence" on State troopers as well as trial magistrates in the performance of their duties.

The strongly-worded, 5-page report, which was particularly critical of Maj. William H. Weber, executive officer of the State Police, was issued late yesterday by the commission, a non-governmental watchdog group of private citizens supported by the Community Chest.

A special five-member committee of the commission found:

1. A State Police Board of Inquiry which investigated the handling of three warrants issued May 23, 1957, against Baltimore contractor Sidney Sappington, "was grand inquest" so that it can subpoena witnesses and records not fair and impartial.

2. "Major Weber violated established tenets of the Maryland State Police departmental procedure" in that "it was at his direction that the warrants were not served."

3. That the State Police usurped a judicial function. "By deciding that Mr. Sappington was not intoxicated and then ordering that the warrants not be served, Major Weber first usurped a judicial function: the State Police Board of Review then condoned it; and the superintendent later ratified it."

The unserved warrant case first came to public light last summer when Alvin J. T. Zumbun, director of the Criminal Justice Commission, learned that the warrants had been issued in May of 1957 but had never been served on Sappington.

An investigation disclosed Sappington had been stopped in Anne Arundel County by State Police Cpl. Martin S. Clevenger of the Eastern Barracks who said he saw Sappington's car zig-zagging down the highway.

Clevenger, who was off duty and out of uniform at the time, said Sappington questioned his identity as a state trooper and drove off while he telephoned his barracks for instruction.

Clevenger then swore out three warrants charging the contractor with drunken driving, reckless driving and disorderly conduct.

After Zumbun disclosed the existence of the unserved warrants, a State Police board of three captains conducted an investigation.

On Aug. 8, it praised Maj. Weber for using "prudent judgment" in blocking service of the warrants. The State Police board also reprimanded Clevenger for failing to go through channels. The warrants charging drunken driving and disorderly conduct were dismissed on recommendation of the board and only the one charging reckless driving was served.

Five days later, on Aug. 13, Sappington failed to appear in Annapolis Magistrate's Court and forfeited $25.45 collateral he had posted on the reckless driving charge.

The collateral had been paid to the court through the personal check of Capt. Charles Magaha, one of the three State Police probers who had received the amount in cash from Sappington.

The Criminal Justice Commission's special investigating committee called this a "bad practice."

"The present practice of the Maryland State Police in accepting cash collateral from persons charged with violating the Motor Vehicle Law, depositing the same in their personal bank accounts and issuing their personal checks to the magistrate before whom the defendant is summoned to appear we believe to be an improper practice subject not only to misunderstanding but also to potential abuses and should not be permitted," the report said.

The State Police findings in the warrants case were termed "shocking" by Zumbun. And Hyman Pressman, Baltimore lawyer and critic of officialdom, called the State Police report a "white wash." He asked the governor to investigate.

But on Aug. 13, the Criminal Justice Commission decided to launch its own "complete and impartial" investigation. It named a special committee of five, excluding Zumbun and commission President Gordon M. Allen, to do the job.

The report of that committee, headed by Edward M. Passano, Baltimore publisher, was released yesterday after the entire commission had approved it and forwarded copies to Gov. McKeldin, House Speaker Luber, Senate President Louis L. Goldstein, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, and Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the State Police.

None of the five had any immediate comment except Col. Munshower who said:

"If anybody wants a statement, they can get it from Mr. Allen. We closed our (the State Police) case on Aug. 5."

Gov. McKeldin promised a statement today.

Maj. Weber was not available for comment.

The commission committee said it based the conclusions in its report on a thorough study and analysis of 525 pages of single spaced transcript of the State Police investigation, including the "Report of the Board of Inquiry" as well as "A Special Summary

...there are new concepts in family protection and many can be applied to the life insurance you now own!

Even if your insurance program is only a few years old, these fast-changing times may have made it needlessly out-of-date!

For example: the protection you planned for your family may be totally inadequate today—but your Prudential Agent may find ways to make the same policies do a better job for you through their payment provisions. Another example: it's an easy matter to neglect the proper listing of your beneficiaries. Having your Prudential Agent check your policies can help you make certain all your loved ones are protected and to the proper extent. Still another example: Your Prudential Agent may help make retirement more comfortable by making certain that your life insurance ties in properly with your Social Security benefits.

Your Prudential Agent will be glad to make a skillful Twentieth Century review of your present policies—and to help you make sure these policies are being used most efficiently for you and your family. See him soon. There's no obligation.

County Units Take Part In GOC Exercise

The five Ground Observer Corps outposts in Allegany County participated in a training exercise last week.

The purpose of the exercise was to increase the operational efficiency of the GOC and to provide training for volunteers and observers in detecting, reporting, processing and filtering air surveillance information.

Coordination of Civil Defense and the GOC in Allegany County is in charge of Charles G. Smith, city. Although the weather was extremely bad with poor visibility, 41 aircraft were detected.

Master Sgt. J. P. Hodge, section sergeant of the area within the 30th Air Division (Defense) said: 24 were identified as friendly and 17 aircraft were reported to the Canton Air Defense Filter Center as "threat type" and unknown.

Location and supervisors of the five posts are Bedford Road, Mrs. Eula Mortizfeldt; Frostburg, Vincent Bollino; Allegany Ballistic Laboratory, Charles W. Pendergast; Cresaptown, Emory McKenzie, and Constitution Park, Harold E. Crawford.

Other volunteers include Mrs. Adeline Denkenberger, Mrs. Edna Hounshell, Mrs. Nola Dawson, Mrs. Gladys Breedlove, Mrs. Jean Baird, Walter Hayes, Mrs. Ina Keister.

Mrs. Beulah Keister, Mrs. C. Nicholas, Mrs. Esther Martz, John L. Dunkle, Harry Hartman, Cecilia Lauterbach, Mrs. Naomi Jr., and Mrs. Virginia Shrew-bridge.

The planet Pluto was discovered from Lowell Observatory near Flagstaff, Ariz.

Employer Who Shuns Job Insurance Hearing Suffers

BALTIMORE (U)—Employers who don't show up at unemployment insurance hearings affecting their companies may suffer two ways.

They may wind up with an unfavorable decision and their unemployment insurance tax rate may be increased.

Joseph P. Healy, chairman of the board of appeals of the Department of Employment Security, said today that oftentimes happens when employers or their representatives don't attend the hearings.

An employer's tax rate is based on the extent to which his employees draw jobless insurance benefits, as well as the general health of the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Fund.

Firm Grants Wage Boost

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A five-cent-an-hour pay raise has been granted employees of Victor Products Corp. at its plants in nearby Ranson, Berkeley Springs and Hagerstown, Md., it was disclosed Monday.

The pay boost to all hourly-paid workers will go into effect next week. The company said the success of a newly-developed pre-mixed beverage dispenser, being sold to bottlers around the nation, enabled it to boost production and increase earnings.

The company makes various types of cooling and freezing units at Berkeley Springs and Hagerstown. The Ranson plant makes small parts and serves as the firm's plastics division.

Preston County Action Upheld

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An award of $469 by a Preston County Circuit Court jury to a tire firm against an official of another company was upheld, in effect, Monday by the State Supreme Court.

The court refused, 5-0, to review the decision against James S. Ryan of Universal Sales and Service Inc. of Brandonville. Ryan claimed he should not be held personally liable for a debt incurred by his firm.

West Virginia Welfare Law Hit In Report

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A federal report has described parts of West Virginia's public welfare law as "poorly constructed, confusing and ambiguous."

The report, made by the Charlottesville, Va., regional office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was a followup of surveys made of the state DPA operation at its request.

One section and the most critical, was on child welfare, while another concerned the administrative setup of the West Virginia DPA.

The report said the absence of written and specific administrative policy had hindered the development of a well-coordinated program in the child welfare field. The regional office called for further integration of the child welfare program into the total public assistance program; decentralization of the adoption program in the district and county offices; further decentralization of other child welfare services, and more efforts to help eliminate long delays in child placement and in dealing with institutional cases. The second section stressed that the DPA "is seriously understaffed by any standards." Among other things, it said 50 per cent of the "visitor's" time is taken up with clerical duties.

'Fast Draw' Contest Fatal

PADUCAH, Ky. (UPI)—Dennis Murphy, 17, Paducah, was fatally shot late Sunday when he and a friend had a "fast-draw" contest with what they thought were unloaded guns.

Murphy was visiting a friend, Richard Hobbs, 16, when they got a gun from the collection of Hobbs' father.

While attempting to outdraw each other, a .41 caliber derringer held by Hobbs went off and the bullet struck Murphy in the heart. McCracken County Deputy Coroner Harvey Johnson said Murphy died almost instantly.

No charges were filed against Hobbs.

Parent-Child Study Group Meets Tomorrow

FRONTBURG — The Parent-Child Study Group of Beall High School will meet tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Clara Mae Vogtman presiding. A course will be held over a six week-period, alternating with afternoon and evening classes.

Afternoon sessions will be held from 1:30 until 3 with evening classes from 7 to 8:30.

KEYSER, W. Va. (UPI)—Slander of the Democratic party in Republican campaign statements, even with President Eisenhower's approval, will only be resented by the public, Rep. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.) said Monday night. Byrd, a nominee for the U. S. Senate long-term, said he had reference to a statement issued Monday which said in effect "continued control of Congress by a Democratic majority would take the country down the road to socialism."

"This is simply dragging out the mothballs the same old tired nostrum that has been used against the Democratic Party in every campaign since 1932," he said. "This most recent administration dodge is an obvious Nixon-type move to divert the attention of the people from the administration's neglect of the problems of recession and inflation, from the President's default of leadership, both at home and abroad."

He said the opposition strategists "have sounded the alarm to bring President Eisenhower back from the golf links" in a last-ditch stand for the election campaign.

"The desperation and frenzy of the Eisenhower Administration is clearly shown by this frantic effort to pin the tail of socialism on the Democratic donkey," he added.

Revercomb Backs Defense Program For U.S. Strength

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. (UPI)—Sen. Chapman Revercomb (R-W. Va.) said Monday he would continue to support a defense program that builds American might into the strongest peace-time force the world has ever known.

Revercomb, in a campaign address to a GOP rally, declared that it is his "conviction that peace through strength is the only sound course" that can be pursued in the divided world of today.

The senator said that those who would have it appear that America is militarily weak are "simply ignoring the facts."

Noting that the country's defense strength "has been nearly doubled during the past eight years," Revercomb said the Air Force had only 48 wings in 1950 and 137 today.

"Eight years ago, we had 12,500 active aircraft," he said. "Today we have 25,000 — just twice as many."

The GOP candidate for re-election also said that since 1950 America's armed forces had grown from 1,400,000 to 2,600,000 while its naval strength had increased from 237 warships to 409.

Coney Lions Map Variety Show Oct. 21

LONACONING — Plans for a variety show are being formulated by the Lonaconing Lions Club for the benefit of the eye clinic (D-W. Va.) said Monday night. The program will be staged at Valley High School Tuesday, October 21, at 8 p. m. Raymond Bampton, president, day which said in effect "continued control of Congress by a Democratic majority would take the country down the road to socialism."

"This is simply dragging out the mothballs the same old tired nostrum that has been used against the Democratic Party in every campaign since 1932," he said. "This most recent administration dodge is an obvious Nixon-type move to divert the attention of the people from the administration's neglect of the problems of recession and inflation, from the President's default of leadership, both at home and abroad."

Young Adult Presbytery Rally Sunday

KEYSER — Rev. Albert Eugene Dimmock of Atlanta, Ga., will speak at the Young Adult Rally of the Winchester Presbytery in Bethany Presbyterian Church, near Martinsburg, Sunday, beginning at 2 p. m. He is secretary of the Division of Evangelism of the Board of Church Extension, Atlanta.

Born in Hangchow, China, a son of Presbyterian U. S. missionaries, he received training at Davidson (N. C.) College, and Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va. He served pastorates in the Synod of West Virginia and Tennessee before accepting his present position with the Board of Church Extension.

In addition to Rev. Dimmock's address, workshop group will be held with the following leaders: Rev. Carlyle A. McDonald, pastor of Charles Town Presbyterian Church; Rev. Oren Moore Jr., pastor of Front Royal (Va.) Presbyterian Church; Rev. Daniel D. Sulc, pastor of Bethany Presbyterian Church near Martinsburg; Rev. David R. Holt 2nd, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Martinsburg, and Rev. John C. Livingston, pastor of the Burnt and Sunnyside Presbyterian churches near Winchester, Va.

Charles Bonar of Burlington, president of the Young Adult Fellowship of the Winchester Presbytery, will preside over the meeting and conduct the business session.

Other officers of the group are: Secretary, Mrs. Edward Nogle of Romney; and Wayne Starlip of Bethany Church near Martinsburg, treasurer. Vice-presidents from the four districts are Mrs. John Stephen of Keyser, Miss Florence Dodd of Moorefield, Richard LeDane of Gerrardstown and Miss Sara Dick of Martinsburg.

A nursery will be provided for the children who are present.

Barton Without Gas After Pipeline Break

BARTON — Residents of Barton were without gas yesterday when a bulldozer broke the main line leading into the town.

C. C. Robbins, district manager of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, said a lot of gas was lost because of the accident but service was expected to be resumed early last night.

Robbins said the bulldozer was clearing an area for a road when the two-inch line was broken, causing 360 residents to be without gas.

Garrett County Boasting Total Three Air Strips

OAKLAND — Garrett county is now boasting of three air strips, two of them completed. The Bowman strip at McHenry has been in operation for a number of years.

The others are located near Fingerboard Road, about two miles from Oakland, and in the Turkey Head area of Deep Creek Lake on the Deer Park inlet.

The one west of Oakland is operated by Ward Hinebaugh, and is mostly for his own use. The other strip was constructed by Harry Deal and Paul Davis, summer residents of Deep Creek Lake, both of whom have summer homes in the Turkey Head area.

Deal said his strip was 2,500 feet long and 150 feet wide, is well sodded and covers approximately nine acres. It was built at a cost of $1,000. The land used for the strip was leased from Clyde Witt and Thomas Lohr, plus some of Deal's own land.

Deal said planes already were landing there and that it was sufficiently large to accommodate most small craft such as summer residents of the lake area would use. Deal said he was advocating several of these strips around the lake.

Educators To Visit Sector

OAKLAND — Dr. Willard Elsbree of Teachers College, Columbia University, along with a number of instructional supervisors from the State Department of Education, are visiting Garrett County schools today and tomorrow upon invitation of the local board and county superintendent.

Dr. Elsbree is one of the nation's foremost educators and is currently the administrative head of Teachers College. He is known for his "grass roots" approach to the problems of modern-day education.

Members of the group began their two-day visitation in the office of the Board of Education, where they met with the superintendent and supervisory staff for a period of orientation relative to the county program, policies and objectives. Upon completion of the orientation period, the group went into various schools for classroom visitation, talking to principals, checking the textbook and instructional materials on hand, evaluating the quality of instruction and guidance programs, looking over the physical facilities, etc. Following the two-day visitation there will be a meeting of the visitors, principals and supervisors in the Bennett Road School Library for the purpose of evaluations and recommendations.

In addition to Dr. Elsbree, the following members of the State Department of Education are on hand: Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent of schools; Dr. Willis White, director of curriculum; Miss Sarah Leiter, state supervisor of guidance; Herschel James, director, division of vocational education; Miss Evelyn Miller, state supervisor of home economics; Miss Eleanor Weagly, state supervisor of school lunch program; Dr. Herbert Steiner, state supervisor of physical education; Mrs. Gladys Hopkins, state supervisor of instruction; Miss Mae Graham, state supervisor of school libraries, and Mrs. Mildred Sowers, state elementary supervisor.

Committee Leaders At Work On Springs Folk Festival

GRANTSVILLE — In an all-out involvement of the Springs Community, with much help from Grantsville and spotted assistance as far as Meyersdale to the north and Gortner to the south in Maryland, plans are moving along rapidly for Friday's folk festival.

Heading the festival committee is Dr. Alta Schrock of Niverton. Working with her are: Foods—Mrs. Lura Folk and George Yoder; exhibits—Ivan Yoder and Mrs. Lola Peck; demonstrations—Mrs. Verda Yoder and John Folk; program—Evan Miller and Rhonda Bender; properties—Raiph Miller and Paul Kinsinger; finance—Maude Smalley and Floyd Bender. Dr. Schrock herself is heading the publicity and the Penn Alps store and crafts exhibits.

The foods committee has an especially large assignment. The group met many times in an effort to lay clear-cut plans for the serving of 150 persons continuously throughout the day, until a total of some 1,500 servings has been reached.

With the facilities at hand this is a major feat. The magnitude of the assignment given this committee becomes apparent when one realizes that more than 100 persons will be working with and for the foods committee before and during the festival.

Deserving laurels are women of the Springs-Grantsville-Salisbury area who have processed and frozen some 50 gallons of applesauce; ladies of the Daughters of Dorcas (Mrs. Walter Killius, Mrs. Ivan Yoder, and Mrs. Ray Maust) who baked 2,000 plain sugar and old-fashioned ginger cookies, and especially the foods committee itself: Mrs. Lura Folk, George Yoder, Mrs. Melba Ott and Mrs. Bertha Rodamer.

The properties committee is in for a lion's share of work, with the advertising banner across Main Street of the village, a rail fence across the front of the Community Center lot and five tents to be set up, to mention only a few major tasks.

They will also set up an office, and install a telephone for the chairman of the festival with headquarters in one room of the Community Center. The office will be in operation by Thursday morning.

Cresaptown

CRESAPTOWN — Mrs. Letta Buckingham is improving after returning home from Sacred Heart Hospital.

Airman 2-Lt Dale Merritt returned to Little Rock Air Force Base, Ark., after visiting his mother, Mrs. Okereda Merritt.

Mrs. William C. Stouffer remains ill at her home.

Mrs. Mona McDonald of Baltimore, John Hutson of Winchester, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Ridgeley, W. Va., were weekend guests of Mrs. Brace Hutson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nave and children of Akron are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McLean and Mrs. James McLean and sons of Hancock visited Mrs. Christine Burns.

Mrs. Edward Lease, Mrs. Regis Brinker and Miss Ethel Sindy visited friends in Worthington, W. Va.

Grantsville PTA Hears Address By School Head

GRANTSVILLE — Grantsville School held its first PTA meeting of the year with Leslie Stanton, president, presiding. He extended greetings and stated that the general theme adopted by the group was "Better Education in the Grantsville Community."

The school band presented a program under the direction of Lewis Michael, instructor of music. A. B. Dean, principal, spoke briefly and introduced members of the faculty as follows: Mrs. Jo Ann Harris, Mrs. Grace Epstein, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Miss Viola Broadwater, Mrs. Fern McKenzie, Miss Esther Willard L. Hawkins, superintendent of Garrett County schools, discussed "Trends in Education."

He explained major trends and problems, emphasizing, "Do Better Things We Have Been Doing." He also told of the school system on state and local levels, cost per pupil, teachers' salaries and transportation.

A report on the "Schools of Maryland" by Freedman Butts, Columbia University, New York City, was read. Miss Claudine Opel's and Miss Joyce Warnick's rooms won a prize for having the most parents present.

The state convention will be held November 6 and 7 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore. Delegates will be selected to attend the convocation.

Refreshments were served by the Sixth Grades, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mrs. Mary McKenzie.

Keyser Area CUF Official Is Appointed

KEYSER — W. W. Schofield, office manager of the Emerson-Pryne Electrical Company here, has been named business-classified chairman of the second annual County United Fund drive in Keyser, according to T. Warner Lowry, local area general chairman of CUF.

A native of East Orange, N. J., Schofield came here when Emerson-Pryne moved its Eastern Division headquarters from Newark, N. J. in February 1953.

"County United Fund is the one answer to a community's performing its functions toward charitable work, without burdening people with multiple fund drives," Schofield said today. "Everybody gets far better results — the United Way."

An active worker in Keyser civic and church affairs, Schofield is a graduate of Newark College of Rutgers University, and the Pace College of Accounting, New York City.

Emerson-Pryne employees were one of the first groups to join the County United Fund on a payroll deduction basis last year.

There will be a meeting of Keyser business-classified team captains tomorrow night at 7:30 at the office of the Potomac Power and Light Company with Schofield presiding.

Club Hears Talk

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, head of the journalism and speech departments at Potomac State College, spoke at a recent meeting of the Kiwanis Club as the official marking the observance of National Newspaper Week.

Dr. Atwater, who is director of public relations for the local college and faculty advisor for the Pasquino, the student newspaper, discussed the many facets of the journalism profession, outlining briefly the duties involved in the printing of a daily paper, the various type of employees needed for the job, and the numerous mechanics necessary for the production of a neat and interesting edition.

In her talk she touched on the business and editorial phases of newspaper work, as well as the advertising, distribution and book work involved in the successful operation of the business. She also spoke briefly on some of the great newspapermen in America through the past years.

She remarked that these persons who work on a paper are like a wheel that has many cogs meshing along the line of duty day or night, bringing a completed newspaper into the home and keeping millions of persons abreast of the time at the mere cost of a few pennies.

Parsons To Hear Governor Speak

PARSONS — Cecil H. Underwood, governor of West Virginia, will speak at a birthday dinner honoring President Dwight D. Eisenhower tomorrow in Parsons High School auditorium at 6:30 p. m.

J. J. Mullenex, chairman of the Tucker County Republican Executive Committee, is in charge of arrangements and has announced there will be other speakers in addition to Gov. Underwood. J. Kenton Lambert of Parsons will act as master of ceremonies.

Earlier in the day Gov. Underwood will speak at a session of the National Conference of State Park Directors which will be held at Blackwater Lodge next week.

The local dinner will be prepared and served by members of the Band Boosters Club.

PTA To Hold Meeting

SHORT GAP — The Short Gap PTA will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. W. B. Helmick, member of the Mineral County Board of Education, will discuss "The Better School Amendment."

Society To Meet

ECKHART — The Helping Hand Society of Eckhart Methodist Church will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the church. Hostesses include Grace Pelker, Ruth Filsinger and Elizabeth Hansel.

Employment Not Rising On Par With Production

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Indications are that employment isn't rising as fast as production is picking up.

This stems from greater use of automation, operation of more efficient plants, and more emphasis on increased labor productivity. Some of the slack in employment is being taken up by new businesses started during the recession by some of the unemployed.

Take leathercraft for example. In 1948, people making their own sandals, wallets, belts and briefcases spent less than two million dollars for equipment. This year they are spending 13 million dollars.

Tandy Leather Co., a division of General American Industries, with 87 stores throughout the country, reports an overall rise in sales of three per cent.

In some cities, hard hit by unemployment, the gain has been larger. The company's Pittsburgh sales rose 30 per cent; St. Louis, 19 per cent; Buffalo, 17 per cent, and Chicago, 10 per cent. In Detroit where auto unemployment was highest, sales were up two per cent.

According to Tandy executives, many who formerly used leathercraft as a hobby have turned it into a paying business by selling their products.

Additional leisure from unemployment or reduced working hours has given more time to the home production of leather goods. Some workers who have been working full time are using funds realized from leather work to supplement their regular incomes.

The Tandy company sells a number of kits for do-it-yourself craftsman. These include kits for belts, wallets, mooccasins, and others. The company notes that where one or two kits were formerly purchased the recession period saw demand for quantities. The most popular kits include wallets, mooccasins, sandals, and quick-draw pistol holders; the last influenced by the craze for TV Westerns.

Tandy expects the demand to continue with new enterprises in business. The company plans to open 28 additional stores in the next 18 months.

Rick Ferrell, director of minor league personnel for the Detroit Tigers, has been with the organization since 1950 when he joined the Tigers as a coach.

Better School Plan Rejected In 1956 Vote

W. Va. Amendment Renamed; Had Been Designated Taxation

Editor's note: Following is the second of three dispatches on four proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in West Virginia next month—what they would accomplish, arguments for and against, and how the results would differ from present provisions.

By J. RICHARD TÖREN
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Depending on your point of view, the "Better Schools Amendment" will allow West Virginians to act for the benefit of their schools, or it is just a new and misleading name for a proposal rejected two years ago.

For the amendment, one of four proposed constitutional changes to be voted on Nov. 4, is identical in wording with an amendment defeated in a 1956 referendum by 16,769 votes out of 482,551 cast.

In 1956 the proposal went on the ballot under the name "Taxation and Finance Amendment." Its sponsors are convinced that this somewhat forbidding title accounted for its defeat—that some unknown voters said "No" simply because they don't favor taxation. A shift of less than 2 per cent would have carried the amendment.

On that basis the Legislature voted overwhelmingly to submit the question a second time, but under the more agreeable name of "Better Schools Amendment."

Strict Limits Set
The Tax Limitation Amendment of 1932 set strict limits on taxes levied on various classes of property, but allowed special "excess" levies to be laid if approved by 60 per cent of the voters in a county. The maximum amount was 50 per cent of the regular levy and the maximum term three years.

The proposed amendment would make three changes:

—Allow voters to approve excess levies amounting to 100 of the normal maximums, for school purposes only.

—Increase the maximum duration from three years to five.

—Provide that all levies within the normal maximums allocated for support of schools may be used for current expense purposes, so that any or all bonded debt could be financed by levies outside the normal limits. At present only 60 per cent of the bonded debt can be financed by levies outside the normal maximums.

Proponents of the amendment argue that its sole purpose is to give the people of a county the right to pay better schools if a 60 per cent majority of them want better schools.

Farm Bureau Opposed
It would merely "enlarge the opportunity for additional local revenue for public schools," in the words of one leading proponent. Emphasis has been placed on the fact that a 60 per cent majority would still be required at a special election to place the higher levies in effect.

Leading the fight against the amendment—as it did in 1956—is the West Virginia Farm Bureau. The bureau's "Farm News" said this in an editorial:

"Two years ago the voters defeated an amendment to the State Constitution which would have transferred much of the tax load to farmers and homeowners.

"... our hope is that we can at least help again this year in defeating exactly the same amendment which is coming up again this November under the new and misleading name of the 'Better Schools Amendment.'"

"In voting to submit the amendment, the Legislature supported the idea that state aid to schools has gone as far as it should, and additional help should now come from the individual counties.

On the other side are those who, while possibly agreeing that schools need more money—believe that this particular amendment could destroy the effect of levy limitation written into the constitution in 1932.

Illinois Town Has Rash Of New Flags

JOILET, Ill. (UPI)—Police are hopeful this town's latest prankster will quit before he runs through the entire United Nations. A Guatemalan flag was found flying Monday morning from a hospital flag pole and a Peruvian flag was hoisted to the top at St. Francis Academy. Flag poles on other private and public buildings have recently sported the flags of Denmark, Tunisia, France and Japan.

Garment Shop Owner's Advice Raises Eyebrows

NEW YORK (UPI)—A garment shop owner called out to a model in the next room to come pose for a picture with touring gubernatorial candidate Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"I can't," she yelled back. "I ain't wearing my girdle."

"Never mind," shot back the owner. "Just wear your shoes."

Quints For Guppy Fish

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Mrs. Doris Lemble had a baby, her fourth daughter, and then she had quintuplets. The multiple birth was that of a guppy, sent to her as a hospital gift.

Auto Peace Brightens Business Hope

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—With the auto industry assured of at least relative labor peace for three years one big worry has been removed for business. The outlook for industry in general is much brighter today. An auto strike would have slammed the brakes on the recovery.

Now steel can look forward to a good fourth quarter with certainty. The auto industry will also be using large quantities of copper, lead, zinc, rubber, glass and textiles.

This seems sure for weeks ahead. Consumer reaction to the new models will be the final determinant. But until that is tested, the auto industry will be turning out new cars in quantity.

Another big worry for business is being allayed. The consumer is going into debt again.

To business that means that consumer confidence is rising—that people feel certain enough about their future income to mortgage some of it in advance to buy things they want now.

Consumer credit has turned up after a six months drop and totals 33½ billion dollars. If the new auto models catch on, this debt probably will take still another jump this fall.

Americans also have been taking on home mortgage debt at a big clip, increasing this total by more than two billion dollars in the second quarter of the year, with no indication that the pace has slackened since.

Construction spending also is on the rise. More home building has been a factor, but the increase in public construction has given the total its biggest upward push.

Retail sales have held remarkably steady all through the recession. They dipped in areas hardest hit by unemployment and sloughed off generally in durable goods. But this was made up elsewhere by increased spending for

Earth Satellites May Outmode Mail Carriers

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI)—Earth satellites may someday put the mailman out of business, according to Army missile scientist Friedrich Von Saurma. He said that six satellites, working together, could pick up the entire mail volume of one city on recording devices and play it back over another city.

They may even worry lest the total of debt that consumers are taking on should prove too heavy.

But the public seems sure none of these is going to happen or mean too much if it does. So the public is cutting back on its rate of saving; is buying a little more, but with an eye on prices, and is increasing its personal debt.

They may worry about the heights to which stock prices have climbed. They may worry about what would happen to confidence in the future if the new autos flopped and this prop to the economy should be removed abruptly after the first flush of production and sales promotion.

They may even worry lest the total of debt that consumers are taking on should prove too heavy.

But the public seems sure none of these is going to happen or mean too much if it does. So the public is cutting back on its rate of saving; is buying a little more, but with an eye on prices, and is increasing its personal debt.

Long Island Still Sinking Into Sea

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Long Island, N. Y., is sinking into the sea but there's no cause for panic.

Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, retiring president of the Internal Council of Scientific Unions, disclosed Monday that Long Island now is going down two feet every 100 years. It was sinking only six inches a century before 1930.

Berkner said the reasons are not completely clear to science, but most of the continental United States is sinking with only land north of a line drawn between Boston and Chicago gradually rising.

It could be the result of steadily rising sea levels because of melting glaciers or an increasing load of silt on earth, Berkner said.

a fact-finding report is presented. In short, the report added, the State Police board "concerned itself basically with an attempt to resolve the issue of whether or not Mr. Sappington was intoxicated at the time he was stopped; how the matter became public; and to what extent 'leaks' developed in the State Police Department; and unjustifiably interfering ulterior motive to Mr. Zumburn in taking an interest in the matter."

In addition to the unrecorded teletype messages, the report said the State Police transcript of its probe "clearly reveals" that Major Weber wrote Lt. Harry F. Trumpower, commander of the Easton Barracks and Cpl. Cleveland's immediate superior, a "personal" letter through the mails which was delivered to him at his home.

The commission report called both the teletype messages and the letter "improper" and added: "Indeed, it is significant that Lt. Trumpower, Corporal Cleveland's superior, returned the letter from his personal file to Major Weber after the publicity regarding the Sappington matter had occurred; an obvious attempt to conceal the note and return it to the sender. However, it is to Lt. Trumpower's credit that he reported to the Board of Inquiry the existence of the letter."

In summing up Phase I of its report, the committee noted: "... If Corporal Cleveland was guilty of poor judgment, it is regrettable that he did not have his day in court. By the same token, it is equally regrettable that Mr. Sappington also did not have his day in court and thus the opportunity for vindication. If Major Weber had not interfered with the service of duly issued warrants the entire matter would have been resolved on its merits by the Trial Magistrate who issued the warrants and who was the only person authorized to dispose of the case."

Phase II of the report, containing only two paragraphs, said in part: "There are indications of other improprieties in the Department of Maryland State Police with re-

Driving State Autos For Private Use Draws W. Va. Warning

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —

Inside the Statehouse: State Auditor Edgar B. Sims is on the lookout for state officials who allegedly are using state-owned automobiles for other than State business.

Sims says he has recently been receiving reports of such practices but he declined to specify any particular official or department.

However, he says some officials are using the cars to make trips between their homes and office. "Their conscience ought to worry them" for such action, he says. "They should use their private cars or take a bus to-and-from work."

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood last week gave a donation for church work to a solicitor who did not recognize him as the state's chief executive.

An elderly woman approached the governor as he left his office and asked him if he was the governor. "Do I look like the governor?" Underwood said. "I don't know about that...but you do look rich," she replied.

Starting Jan. 1, the State Liquor Control Commission will revise liquor store price lists but twice a year instead of the present quarterly revision, according to Commissioner Robert S. Judge. Judge says the semi-annual listing will result in a "minimum" saving of $10,400 a year on printing and postage expenses. The price lists will be revised under the new policy each January and July.

The commissioner says proposals and changes for the new list should be sent to his office six weeks prior to the date of the price list publication.

The State Education Department has under consideration a rather unique proposal by the Westinghouse Corp., to operate an educational closed circuit TV program for use in West Virginia schools.

Westinghouse says it has successfully experimented with having an airplane fly in a wide circle over an area and act as a "transmitting" tower for TV programs.

Such a plan, according to the company, would help overcome the TV problem of West Virginia's mountainous terrain. The mountains would necessitate the building of many costly stationary TV towers if educational programs were to be beamed down into low-lying regions.

Such construction could be replaced by the use of a plane according to Westinghouse.

W. Va. Police Nab Young Robbers

Well-Organized Teenagers Operated In Romney Area

One of the best organized teenage gangs known in Hampshire County has been "smashed" by West Virginia authorities at Romney.

West Virginia State Police, Romney Police Chief Luther Hutter and Hampshire County Sheriff M. R. Hoyt, stated this morning that the gang raided places in the Romney area for sometime and operated under the leadership of Brian Alvin Gosnell, 18.

Local 812, Municipal Employees Union, will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street.

Guy Long, secretary, did not divulge the subject of the meeting but said "It will affect all city employees."

Treasurer's Report Filed Before Board

September 30 Bank Balance Shown At $2,095,995 Mark

The county treasurer's report for the quarter ending September 30 was submitted to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today. It was prepared by Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, and approved by James W. Bishop, county treasurer.

The cash balance in the bank as of September 30 was $2,095,995.32 as compared to the amount of $2,280,128.28 as of June 30.

Receipts included $74,934.38 from state motor race taxes, $45,414.23 from motor vehicle and gasoline taxes, $70,301.17 from auto taxes, $13,442.14 from state taxes on distilled spirits, $13,357.43 from the state for mental patients in hospitals, $47,860.93 from J. Wallace Close, tax collector for District 1, for 1958 taxes; $27,731.24 from Close for 1957 taxes; $290,873.79 from Paul R. LaRue, collector in District No. 2, for 1958 taxes; $437,741.29 from James Holmes, collector in District No. 3, for 1958 taxes.

Various other sums were received to make up the total.

Disbursements in the quarter included $44,078.21 allocation to the incorporated communities from the horse racing receipts, $46,380.58 in accounts payable, $1,913.39 in Social Security taxes, $4,636.81 for the legislative and executive departments, $24,439.62 for the judicial department, $50,482.86 for the finance department, $12,576.17 for buildings, $22,275. for volunteer fire departments, $142,295.72 for highways, $29,741.53 for conservation of health, $39,369.76 for hospitals, $94,592.21 for public welfare, $9,545.15 for jails and training schools, $571,200 for public schools.

Interest on school construction bonds was $82,336.39, retirement of school construction funds, $271,383.38; retirement of bonded indebtedness, $100,000; employees pension and retirement fund, $15,338.39; interest on bonded indebtedness, $52,723.75; increase in teachers' retirement, $3,649.43; county's share of group insurance, $5,471.21; and county's share of Social Security, $4,317.47.

County taxes and money due in taxes from the various special taxing areas such as LaVale, Cresaptown, Mt. Savage, Potosi, Mac Park totaled $121,037.17 with the bulk being due in county taxes.

Officer Wilson Back After Year's Leave

Officer Edward Wilson returned to his duties on the Cumberland Police force this morning after a year's leave.

Officer Wilson was critically injured in a two-car accident more than a year ago. He is the wagon driver on the 1 to 9 a. m. shift.

Rowan Favors Library Plan, Aid To Teachers

John J. Rowan, Democratic nominee for Allegany County commissioner, said if he is elected he will work for an adequate pension for retired school teachers and added benefits for all teachers.

Rowan, who resides in Woodlawn, LaVale, said he also favors a thorough investigation of methods necessary to secure the mobile library system for Allegany County.

A retired engineer with 35 years' service with the Celanese Corporation of America at the Amelle plant, Rowan feels that his background and his being able to devote all his time to county affairs would benefit the people of the county.

Another of his ideas on improvements in the county system is the establishment of a Planning Commission. Rowan said (Continued on Page 20)

Absent when the picture was taken were Mrs. Charlotte Bruce, treasurer, and Sidney Storer, director.

Three Local Airmen Join In SAC Test

Three Cumberland men will be among aircrew personnel manning the United States' mightiest deterrent to global war, long-range nuclear bombers, at the tenth annual Strategic Air Command bombing and Navigation competition Monday, October 13, through Saturday, October 18.

They are: Major Paul T. Luttrell, 37, B-47 aircraft commander, 98th Bomb Wing, Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb.

Major Harry E. Flook, 35, 833 Buckingham Road, this city, B-47 aircraft commander, 305th Bomb Wing, McDill Air Force Base, Fla.

Lt. Col. John J. Reinhard Jr., 41, Washington-Lee Apartments, also a B-47 aircraft commander, Second Bomb Wing, Hunter Air Force Base, Ga.

Flying out of March AFB and Castle AFB, Calif., the bombers will mount 42 "simulated" attacks on San Jose, Calif., Boise, Idaho, and Butte, Mont., during the four-day test of SAC's finest men and equipment.

A total of 156 crews from 39 SAC wings will compete for best crew and best wing awards. Top award is the Fairchild Trophy, presented annually to the wing which scores highest overall in bombing and navigation during the competition.

Accuracy of the "simulated" bombing will be determined by radar scoring units stationed on the ground near each target.

Board Airs Club Permit

A request for a Class C club license was discussed today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners with Herbert Van Fleet, a representative of the Mechanics' Club of Cumberland.

Van Fleet presented records showing 126 active members of the club and other data required to show that the organization was a bona fide group. Milton Gerson, attorney, appeared with Van Fleet to present the club's view point.

The club has quarters on the second floor of 14 South Mechanic Street. The question of sanitary facilities will have to be checked into before any action is taken by the board. The board also said they would have to confer with Estel C. Kelley, a member of the board who is convalescing at his home after recent surgery.

Licenses on the application are Van Fleet, Cecil Clark and Estel Reed.

The board granted a Class D license to Leo A. Kenney for premises at 99 East Main Street, Frostburg. This is a transfer from a location at 93 East Main Street.

A Class D beer permit was granted Bernard L. McCarty for premises at 315 Springdale Street.

Officer Shober Shot During Hunting Trip

Officer Frank A. Shober, 821 Shade Lane, is reported in "good" condition today at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted last evening after being shot while hunting.

Hospital attaches said Officer Shober sustained pellet wounds of the right arm, chest and right side of his body in the accident on Martin's Mountain.

W.S.C.S. Supper Set

The W.S.C.S. of Central Methodist Church will hold its annual covered dish supper for all members and women of the church tomorrow at 6 p. m., in Fellowship hall. Meat, rolls and dessert will be furnished by the society but members are to bring a covered dish of food.

Garbage Haulers In County Attack City's Fee Plans

Four men who operate garbage hauling businesses outside the city limits of Cumberland appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today to seek a solution to a problem they face as a result of the city plan to charge for use of its dump.

George Boch, who hauls garbage from the LaVale area, was the chief spokesman for the men. He said that the city's deadline of November 15 does not give much time to solve the problem. Boch said the fee which the city will charge would amount to approximately $12 per home and would cost out of city residents a total of $30,000 annually.

Proposal "Unjust" Boch said the fee proposed is "unjust" and Paul Boch, who also operates a garbage hauling business, charged it was a move on the city's part to "force the suburban areas into the city jurisdiction."

The men requested the county to agree to a part of the maintenance cost of the city's dump so that the fees could be eliminated. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, said the county has no authority to buy, maintain or lease dumps. The most that the county has done in any case is to maintain roads leading into the dumps operated by the towns of Frostburg and Lonaconing and this would be the extent the county could act in the case of the road leading into the Cumberland dumping area.

No Authority Commissioners William A. Wilson and James Orr said they had no authority to enter into the garbage business and told the men that their problem was one which must be settled with the Mayor and Council of Cumberland.

It was pointed out that the county board could not enter into any agreement concerning dumps for any particular areas. The county board can license dumping areas under their jurisdiction as a Board of Health for the county, the men were informed.

The men have been hauling their loads of garbage for quite a few years to the city dump and without any payment of fees. The City of Cumberland feels that the cost of maintaining and operating a dump should be paid for in part by the people who reside outside the city limits.

Methodist Missionary Institute Slated Friday

Methodist churches of the Cumberland Sub-district will hold a Missionary Institute at Kingsley Methodist Church Friday afternoon and evening.

Informal discussion groups at 4:45 p. m. will open the session in charge of Rev. George A. Blankner, Baltimore Conference associate missionary secretary. A dinner conference will follow presided over by Dr. Paul F. Warner, Hagerstown District superintendent.

Use of visual aids will be demonstrated together with a presentation of specific missionary projects. A worship service, stressing the role of music in furtherance of Christian teaching, will follow the dinner. Rev. and Mrs. Everett W. Culp, this city, will be in charge.

A color sound film, "Alaska, A Land To Be Won," will be shown at 7:30 p. m. followed by an address by Dr. Takuo Matsumoto, dean of the School of Religious Studies at Aoyama Gakuin, Tokyo, Japan.

Dr. Matsumoto is a graduate of two American universities, was president of the Hiroshima Girls' School in August 1945, when the first atomic bomb fell on that city. His wife and three hundred students were killed. Aoyama Gakuin, the school with which Dr. Matsumoto is associated has more than 10,000 students from junior high through university. Besides his studies in this country, Dr. Matsumoto was chosen as one of three Japanese scholars to make a new translation of the New Testament. The translation was subsequently published by the Japanese and the American Bible Societies. In 1956 he went to London to serve as a chaplain among the Japanese people of that city.

This Institute is open to all interested persons and will be valuable to those who hold any place of missionary leadership in the local churches, officials said.

Reservations for the dinner must be made through the pastor of the church with which the person is affiliated not later than tomorrow. Those wishing to view the film and hear Dr. Matsumoto are welcome.

Cresaptown Rally Held By Demo Women

A rally was held last night in Cresaptown at Warner's Restaurant under sponsorship of the United Democratic Women's Club of Allegany County.

More than 100 Democrats attended the rally with Simon F. Reilly, Allegany County Chairman, was master of ceremonies. Thomas B. Finan, State Chairman for the Counties, spoke on behalf of the various candidates on the Democratic state-wide ticket and also for John R. Foley, who is running for Congress.

Mrs. Fred Werner Jr., was chairman of the rally and she announced that the next event will be a rally at the LaVale Fire Hall Thursday night.

Preceding the rally the UDWC members convened and elected Mrs. Jim McQuown and Miss Ann Everline as delegates to the state UDWC in Baltimore October 22 and 23. Mrs. Mary Stein and Miss Martha Reagan were named alternates.

Mrs. Catherine (Kitty) Day, secretary, said tryouts will be next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p. m. in City Hall auditorium. Final casting will be Thursday. Script books are available at Cumberland Free Public Library and must be returned there by next Tuesday.

An interested person is welcome to try out for a role in the play, Mrs. Day said.

Health Unit's Appointment Methods Hit

Wilson, Orr Challenge Policy In Naming Of Nurses For County

Objection was voiced today by Commissioners William A. Wilson and James Orr to the method of Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, in handling appointments of personnel of the County Health Department.

Commissioner Wilson brought up the matter at today's session of the county board. He said that Dr. Strien had informed him that it was the "policy" of the State Department of Health to name public health nurses to areas other than where they resided.

Lonaconing Vacancy

Wilson said there is a vacancy in the Lonaconing section and it should be filled with someone who resides in that area, provided she is qualified in other respects.

Wilson also said he had contacted the state health agency and was informed that the appointment could be made of a person residing in the area where they would work.

Commissioner Orr said he agreed with Wilson in the matter. The naming of a sanitarian for a vacancy in the department was mentioned. A recent examination was held and a resident of Allegany County placed fourth in the test. The three men who placed above him are non-residents of the county.

Refer County Resident

Wilson said despite the standing of the men in the examination, the county resident should get the job if he is otherwise fully qualified.

The policy and procedures will be discussed Friday when Dr. Perry Prather, director of the State Department of Health, visits in the county. Dr. Prather will be in Garrett County the day before and will attend the meeting of the Allegany County board Friday, according to Wilson.

Revival Services Begin Tomorrow

Rev. T. J. Brant, evangelist, will conduct revival services at the Church of the Nazarene, Willey Ford, beginning tomorrow and continuing through October 19.

Services will be held at 7:30 p. m. daily and 11 a. m. Sundays. Singing and music by local talent will be featured.

Mr. Brant is a former field representative of God's Bible Church, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Rev. A. L. Leply, host pastor, said the public is welcome.

Employ Handicapped Committee To Meet

The Allegany County Committee for the promotion of Employment of the Physically Handicapped will hold a dinner meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The committee is headed by State Sen. Charles M. See. Several citations and awards will be presented.

The meeting is in conjunction with the observance of National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week Oct. 5-11.

Delegate Reed Seeking Sixth Term In House

A member of the House of Delegates for 20 years, Delegate Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage, is seeking re-election on the Republican ticket in the general election November 4.

He has served as chairman of the county Delegation for several years.

A lifelong resident of this county, he was born August 19, 1908, in Mt. Savage, a son of the late Isaac J. and Annie Voss Reed.

He is a graduate of Mt. Savage High School, class of 1925, and of Catherman's Business School here.

He is married to the former Phyllis E. Bennett of Mt. Savage and is engaged in a gas, oil and automotive supply business on M. Savage Road.

A communicant of St. George's Episcopal Church in Mt. Savage, he is a member of Kemp Lodge. (Continued on Page 20)

GOP's Slate Given Praise By Governor

Democrats Stage Enthusiastic Rally At St. Mary's Site

Gov. McKeldin stepping into the political arena with vigor for the first time during the current campaign, lashed out at top Democratic candidates as creatures of "cold-blooded political deals."

The Republican governor said in a short televised speech at Baltimore last night that there is too much at stake to entrust governmental reins to the Democrats' harmony ticket.

Government should not be put in the hands "of such men as the clique of control now seeks to foist upon the people of Maryland," McKeldin said.

Depend On Registration

"They depend for their elections—not on their platforms—not on statesmanly knowledge—but merely on partisan registration—and, even more heavily, on the lingering powers of political bossism."

The GOP leader was making the first of several speeches planned in behalf of James P. Devereux, Republican nominee for governor to succeed McKeldin, who is ineligible for a third term.

McKeldin praised Congressman Devereux as "one who knows the importance of maintaining in high office statesmanship of the first magnitude."

And he had warm words as well for other candidates on the top of the GOP ticket: Sen. J. Glenn Beall, running for reelection; John A. Derr, nominee for comptroller, and Robert A. Wallace, attorney general candidate.

The Republican candidates meanwhile were stumping in Queen Anne's County.

Democrats In St. Mary's

Heavily Democratic St. Marys County was invaded yesterday by the Democratic big guns, including J. Millard Tawes, gubernatorial candidate; Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro, nominee for the Senate; Louis L. Goldstein, seeking to take over Tawes' office as comptroller, and Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, candidate for reelection.

Also touring with them was Rep. Lankford, running for reelection to Congress.

The Democrats staged an enthusiastic rally at the Leonardtown Fairgrounds as a climax to the "day-long tour."

Some 300 to 400 persons turned out for the meeting, which featured among its speakers George P. Mahoney, The Baltimore County contractor, narrowly beaten by D'Alessandro in the May primary, plugged for the Baltimore mayor and the rest of the party ticket.

In a surprising sidelight, Mahoney singled out a man near the front of the audience—a Republican officer seeker—and asked, "How many times have you voted for me?"

"More times than I can remember," replied Valley I. Greenwald, running on the GOP ticket for the State Senate. Formerly a Democrat, Greenwald has run previously for county commissioner.

In an earlier radio broadcast at Lexington Park, D'Alessandro hit the Republicans for what he termed a "muddled" foreign policy.

Replies Awaited By Glass Union

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Negotiations for a new contract to cover 25,000 glass and ceramic workers in eight states remained in suspension today pending replies from two firms to a new union proposal to avert a strike, scheduled for Friday.

R. J. Reiser, president of the United Glass and Ceramic Workers, said one of the firms had replied Monday night, but he declined to say which firm it was, or what it said. The two companies are Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libby-Owens-Ford.

Only two of the four Cumberland players at the University of Miami saw action for the Florida school this past weekend. However, both contributed to victories scored by the varsity and freshman teams.

Van Parsons, who quarterbacked the LaSalle High Explorers last season, picked up important yardage in the frosh contest with Florida State at Tallahassee. He also ran into the end zone for a two-point conversion after a Miami touchdown as the Little Hurricanes roared to a decisive 46-6 triumph.

Phil Geatz, another ex-LaSalle star, played his usual slashing game at end and caught a pass good for ten yards as the Miami varsity toppled Baylor, 14-8, in Waco, Texas. Geatz, a senior, turned in two tackles and assisted in several others.

Junior Jim Crawford, who had been promoted to first-string left guard on the Monday before the Baylor game, sprained his ankle the following day. The erstwhile battering-ram fullback from Fort Hill was taken to Waco on the chance he might play but the sprain did not respond sufficiently enough to permit participation.

Ed (Mickey) Bush, a sophomore back from LaSalle, did not make the trip.

This Friday night finds Miami meeting Louisiana State in the Orange Bowl. The frosh play their final game October 24 against the University of Florida; the contest between these two close rivals also being billed for the Orange Bowl.

Rod, Ron Sparkle

Cumberlanders in attendance had every right to "crow" over the play of two local stars in the University of Maryland's 40 loss to unbeaten Clemson last Saturday at College Park.

Guard Rod Breedlove, the Terps' candidate for All-American honors, and end Ron Shaffer were little short of magnificent, both offensively and defensively.

On a number of occasions the former local schoolboy rivals (Breedlove played at Allegany and Shaffer at Fort Hill) teamed to bring down Clemson ball-carriers for either a loss or no gain. Shaffer also caught a couple of passes.

A demon blocker, Breedlove threw a devastating body block which helped spring Bob Layman loose on a 54-yard run from scrimmage that set up Maryland's only real threat, a drive that petered out on the five.

Breedlove, as line backer, was all over the field making tackles. And when he wasn't doing a one-man job, he was assisting teammates in twisting the tails of the Tigers. In fact, it seemed like the public-address announcer mentioned Breedlove on about 75 per cent of the Maryland tackles. There was a bit of by-play that was amusing when Clemson was on the march and Tiger coach Frank Howard gave an obvious signal to run the ball. Tommy Mont, standing opposite Howard on the other side of the field, saw it and yelled to his Maryland team to look for a run.

Howard heard Mont and switched the hand signal for a pass. Mont saw that, too, and yelled that Clemson was changing to a pass.

The Terps broke up the pass and from across the field Howard extended Mont a sharp salute.

Sports Keg Residue

Seven ankle injuries, including two fractures, have hospitalized most of the starting linemen on West Virginia University's freshman football squad. Nine Little Mountaineers in all were in the University Health Center yesterday at Morgantown as a result of injuries received in the 41-12 shellacking handed them Saturday at Martinsburg by Gene Alderton's Maryland yearlings. The former Fort Hill and Maryland star center made his debut as Terrapin freshman mentor with Saturday's runaway which found his team piling up 330 yards from scrimmage. Coach Quentin Barnett of the WVU plagues blamed the rash of ankle injuries on clipping by the Maryland team. "The officials called some of it but not all," Barnett said. "One of the best cracks of the World Series so far belongs to Lew Burdette. . . . When the Milwaukee pitcher was asked what he hit for his home run in the second game his answer was, 'a long ball.' . . . And speaking of Burdette, did you notice that just before Gil McDougald hit the homer off Lew yesterday he (McDougald) asked umpire Al Barlick to inspect the ball? Barlick looked the ball over carefully, threw it out of play and flipped another to the pitcher. . . . McDougald promptly walloped Burdette's next pitch off the foul screen in the left-field stands. . . . Later McDougald explained that the ball did something it should not have done. . . . 'It dropped the down like a knuckler—and I know Burdette doesn't throw a knuckler.'"

Rival Managers May 'Gamble' In Sixth Game

Casey Still Says Yanks Will Snare World Title

By LEO H. PETERSEN

UPI Sports Editor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — To gambler not to gamble—that's the question that confronts rival managers Fred Haney and Casey Stengel today when they name their starting pitchers for the sixth game of the World Series. Haney, his world champion Milwaukee Braves still on top, three games to two, had a well-rested Bob Rush to throw at the New York Yankees but apparently was undecided whether to go with Bob Buhl, an 18-game winner in 1957 who was out with an arm injury most of this year.

And Stengel, still insisting his Yankees could come on to win the series, had an equally well-rested Don Larsen, the perfect game pitcher, ready but wondered whether he could afford to gamble with relief ace Ryne Duren or right-hander Art Dittmar.

Announces Pitchers Today Haney, and probably Stengel, too, probably will announce the big decisions this afternoon. Haney said he would reveal his sixth game choice after a Braves' workout. Stengel also indicated he'd make up his mind after a night's sleep.

Rush, a 10-game winner during the National League season, lost the 4-0 third game decision to Larsen but allowed only two runs in the six innings he worked. Larsen retired after seven shut-out innings and Duren completed the game.

Duren started only one game for the Yankees this year but Stengel pointed out: "I can just ask him to throw as hard as he can as long as he can and follow him with anybody I need. I've got a lot of pitchers and they've got all winter to rest so nobody's going to be spared."

It seemed certain, however, that Haney would hold out two-time winner Warren Spahn for the seventh game — if one is necessary.

Stengel Breathes Defiance Stengel breathed defiance despite the still desperate position of the Yankees because he had finally seen the American League champions beat the greatest nemesis in their history, Lew Burdette, in the 7-0 fifth game. "I been saying all along we're not out of this thing," he said. "And I still say we'll win it."

Burdette, four times a winner over the Yankees, finally got his come-uppance Monday when he was kayoed in a six-run sixth-inning rally. He had been hit sharply during the early innings but had allowed only one run—Gil McDougald's third-inning homer—until the roof fell in on him in the big sixth.

A single by Hank Bauer started the rally and Mickey Mantle followed with a single after Jerry Lumpe tried unsuccessfully to bunt on the third strike. Yogi Berra's double, a walk and Bill Skowron's single routed Burdette and brought on Juan Pizarro, who was tagged for a two-run homer by McDougald and a two-run single by Bob Turley before he retired the side.

Strikes Out Ten Turley, routed in the first inning of the Yankees' 13-5 second-game loss, struck out 10 batters and needed only one out-standing defensive play to see him through the game.

That big play came in the top of the sixth after Bill Bruton led off with a bad-hop single over shortstop Tony Kubek's head. Red Schoendienst made a bid for a hit with a looping fly to short left center but Elston Howard, subbing for fourth-game fiddling "goat" Norm Siebern, made a brilliant diving catch and converted it into a double play.

After that it was clear sailing for Turley, who mixed up his now-wind-up delivery with a wide variety of change-ups and fast balls that had the Braves taking strikes all through the game. It was Turley's second series victory. He beat the Braves, 3-2, in the sixth game last season to keep the Yankees alive.

For Burdette, the defeat ended one of the most amazing sagas in World Series history. Four times he started against the Yankees and four times he won, the greatest record ever compiled against the Yankees in series competition.

Queen City Dog Club Lists Pheasant Meet

A field meet on pheasants will be held by the Queen City Bird-Dog Club Sunday at Hammond's Long Acres, Woodmont, Road, near Hancock. Top prize in the meet will be the Queen City Brewing Company trophy for the all-age stakes. All trophies are on display at the Wilson Hardware Company. Movies of the meet will be taken by the state.

Moose Win Pair

The Cumberland Moose defeated Woodmen of the World, 2-1, last night in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match. High scorer for the down like a knuckler—and I know Burdette doesn't throw a knuckler."

Yanks Stay Alive Because Turley Shines As 'Cutie'

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees are still alive in the World Series because Bob Turley had rather be a "cutie" than a powerhouse on the mound.

The 6-foot-2, 214-pound speedballer risked Manager Casey Stengel's wrath and a niche in the doghouse in pitching the Yankees to a 7-0 victory Monday at Yankee Stadium.

He didn't do it with blinding fast balls, for which he is renowned. He did it with curves and sliders which had Milwaukee's sluggers gawking with bats on their shoulders.

He was taking a gambling chance.

After Turley had been shelled from the mound in the first inning of the second game at Milwaukee, with the Yanks finally losing 13-5, Stengel reportedly was fit to be tied.

"The fancy stuff got him," Stengel said. "He is a fast ball pitcher. He should stick to his fast ball."

On that occasion, Turley's curves, sliders and sinkers were missing the plate, forcing him to come in with his hard one. This was all the Braves wanted. They waited and teed off.

They waited again Monday, but without the same luck. Turley's teasers were clipping the corners and bending over the plate. The Braves' big guns — Bill Bruton, Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington — were constantly being caught off balance.

"I guess about three fourths of my pitches were curves or sliders," he said. "I threw sideways and overhead. I felt I was in control all the way."

Stengel had reason to be pleased.

"The difference in the way he pitched today and last week," commented the dour manager, "was that today when he threw a curve it was a strike and they couldn't hit it. In the other game when he threw a curve it was a ball and they didn't have to hit it."

Ears of the katydid are located on its front legs and directed forward.

Turley Ties 'Big Train's' Series Mark

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Figuring the World Series: Bob Turley is only the second pitcher in World Series history to strike out 10 or more batters in two series games. The Yankee right-hander fanned 11 Dodgers in the sixth game of 1956 and set down 10 Braves Monday. The only other pitcher to fan 10 or more in two games was Walter Johnson.

The Yankees will be out to snap a four-game series winning streak at home by the Braves Wednesday. Milwaukee won its last two games against New York in 1957 and the first two in County Stadium this year.

In addition to tying one series record — most hits (59) and setting another most total bases (97) Yogi Berra of the Yanks also has broken the record for most times at bat in the series. He has batted 215 times. The old mark was 199 by Joe DiMaggio.

McDougald's third-inning homer Monday put him in seventh place in the all-time series listings. Gil has six. Babe Ruth leads with 15 followed by Mickey Mantle 11, Lou Gehrig and Duke Snider 10 each, Joe DiMaggio 8 and Goose Goslin 7.

The Yanks are out-slugging the Braves. New York has a slugging mark of .361 with 57 total bases in 138 times at bat. Milwaukee has an average of .358 with 62 total bases in 173 trips.

By scoring six runs in the sixth inning Monday, the Yanks tied a series record. The New York Giants, in the third game of 1933, and the Boston Braves, in the fifth game of 1903, also had six runs in the sixth frame.

Rademacher Planning Another Comeback

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Still confident there's a spot in the professional ring for him, Pete Rademacher said here today he is planning another comeback. Rademacher has had only two professional bouts after winning the Olympic heavyweight crown. He had tongues wagging when he knocked Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson down in his first bout. Patterson won the fight by a knockout. He then underwent a severe beating at the hands of Zora Foley.

Thoroughbreds On Sale Today At Belmont

NEW YORK (UPI) — A total of 67 thoroughbreds including several allowance performers, are scheduled to be sold today at Belmont Park in the third and final auction of the annual two-day fall sale of horses in training. Twenty-seven consignors have submitted thoroughbreds for sale at the auction.

Fred Boylen, Michigan State sophomore guard from Grand Rapids, won the state heavyweight Golden Gloves boxing title in 1955.

Yanks Favored If Larsen Pitches

NEW YORK (UPI) — If the Yankees pick Don Larsen to pitch Wednesday's sixth game of the World Series, they will be favored at 6-5 odds. The Broadway oddsmakers apparently are not too concerned about the Braves' new 3-1 favorite to win the series.

BUY FIVE PLAYERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees have purchased five players from the New York Knickerbocker Club. The Yankees have purchased Ed Dick, Jim Bronstad, Rudy Serrett and shortstop bookers on Oct. 18, has acquired a Boyer from Richmond of the International League and Rodgers (Temple) and Mike pitcher John-Gabler from Denver Farmer (San Francisco) to his squad.

Auburn Leads Both AP And UPI Polls

Irish Advance From Sixth To Third Position

By E. R. WRIGHT
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Auburn placed Oklahoma in first place in the United Press International major college football ratings and the other teams in the top 10 were shuffled like a deck of cards after suffering some rude treatment at the hands of underdog opponents.

Nine teams in the select group advanced or slipped and Purdue replaced Iowa in the first 10. Auburn had to work hard to score a 30-8 Saturday triumph over Chattanooga, ranked fourth in the UPI small college ratings, but moved from fourth to first after the other top-ranked powers also had their troubles with underdogs last Saturday. The 35 leading coaches who rate the teams for UPI gave Coach Ralph (Shug) Jordan's Auburn club 11 first-place votes and 272 points.

Notre Dame advanced. Oklahoma, which had to recover a fumble to set up the touchdown that tamed upstart Oregon, 6-0, slipped to second with seven first-place votes and 251 points. Notre Dame advanced from sixth to third with five first-place votes and 224 points after its one-touchdown victory over Southern Methodist. Army, which visits Notre Dame this Saturday, moved from fifth to fourth with five first-place votes and 214 points. Army blanked Penn State Saturday, 26-0. Ohio State struggled to edge Washington, 12-7, and dropped from third to fifth with three first-place votes and 201 points. Wisconsin, an easy winner over Marquette, moved from seventh to sixth with two first-place votes and 179 points. Michigan State, held to a 12-12 tie by Michigan, slipped from second to seventh with 123 points for the biggest drop suffered by last week's top-ranked teams.

Pitt Move Up
Pittsburgh rallied to edge Minnesota and advanced from ninth to eighth with 96 points. Mississippi moved from 10th to ninth with 71 points after shutting out Trinity (Tex.) and Purdue, an impressive 24-0 winner over Rice, advanced from 11th to 10th with one first-place vote and 67 points. Clemson headed this week's second 10 group. Michigan, Navy, Oregon, Louisiana State, Texas, Houston, Colorado, North Carolina State, College of Pacific and Iowa followed in order. Iowa was eighth last week but slipped to 10th place tie with College of Pacific after being held to a 13-13 deadlock by the Air Force. A cademy, Texas received the other first-place vote.

Each coach selects 70 teams in the order in which he ranks them nationally. Points are distributed on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th place. The United Press International major college football ratings with first place votes and won-lost-tied records in parentheses:

Team	Points
1. Auburn (10-0)	272
2. Oklahoma (9-0)	251
3. Notre Dame (9-0)	224

Qualifying Play In Open Changed

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no more of that annual muddle on golf courses across the country when it comes time to qualify for the National Open.

The U. S. Golf Assn. today adopted a new plan whereby local 36-hole qualifying round on May 18 at 70 locations will provide a field of about 500 for sectional qualifying June 1 over the same distance.

In the past, qualifying has been done strictly on a sectional level, with upwards of 1,200 competing for 162 spots. The new plan will cut the final field to 150, including those exempt from sectional qualifying rounds.

Locations under consideration for the local rounds include four each in New York and California, and three each in Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

The Open is slated for June 11-13.

Wake Forest Paces ACC In Statistics

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Wake Forest's revived Deacons, surprise team of early Atlantic Coast Conference football action, have moved the ball at a near-record pace through their first three games to take a slim lead over Clemson's unbeaten Tigers in the ACC team statistics race.

Wake Forest, which last fall was winless and finished last in all offensive categories, in its three 1958 starts has run and passed for an average of 356 yards a game, winning two while losing one. This is three yards a game better than the 353-yard pace of the Tigers in three straight wins and just 3.5 yards under the ACC total offense record of 359.5 yards a game set by Maryland's great unbeaten team of '53.

Also Lead On Defense
In a turn of events just as surprising, the Deacons also lead the conference in total defense and rushing defense, while ranking second in rushing offense and passing offense, and third in pass defense.

According to the first weekly statistics report by the Atlantic Coast Conference Service Bureau, Wake Forest has given up an average of only 193.7 yards a game running and passing. The Deacons yield on the ground averages only 106.7 yards per contest.

Clemson, meantime, is averaging 262.3 yards a game rushing, tops in the ACC and just under five yards a game better than the ACC-record average of 257.8 yards posted by that same '53 Maryland team. Virginia, mainly on the strength of quarterback Reese Whitley's throwing, tops the ACC in pass offense at 153 aerial yards per game, and this average is a whopping 20 yards a game better than the conference record of 133.4 posted by South Carolina's 1953 team. The Cavaliers also lead in pass defense with an average yield of 73 passing yards a game.

North Carolina Second
Wake Forest is averaging 138.7 yards a game passing and 217.3 rushing for its total offense lead—these figures compared to lowly averages of 153.9 yards rushing and 42.6 passing posted for 10 games last season.

North Carolina ranks second in total defense with an average overall yield of 216 yards a game, and the Tar Heels are second in pass defense at 74 yards per game.

Courtney Quits Amateur Track
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — World record holder Tom Courtney has left the amateur track ranks to take an assistant coaching position at Harvard University.

The Olympic champion who has lowered the 800-yard standard to 1:46.8 was named to the position Wednesday. Tom ran one of the most stirring races of recent years at Melbourne in 1956 to capture the Olympic 800-meter crown. He also ran the fastest 1,000 meters ever turned by an American last year in Sweden.

Britain Rules Favorite Over United States
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) — Based on practice scores, Britain ruled a slight favorite over the United States today on the eve of the World Amateur golf team championship. Twenty-seven other nations also will be represented in the four-day competition starting Wednesday over the rugged old course at St. Andrews, Lafayette Hotel with a Oct. 22 but it still shaped up as a close nationally televised rematch. Jordan between the Yanks and Dan scored a split decision over those players representing the Ortega in their welterweight fight; "home countries."

Jordan-Ortega Bout
LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Don Jordan of Los Angeles and Gaspar Ortega of Mexico will follow the low semi-formal dinner at the starting Wednesday over the rugged old course at St. Andrews, Lafayette Hotel with a Oct. 22 but it still shaped up as a close nationally televised rematch. Jordan between the Yanks and Dan scored a split decision over those players representing the Ortega in their welterweight fight; "home countries."

THEY'RE BOTH CHAMPS—Betty Ann Hanna and Charley Miller exchange smiles and congratulations following their championship victories in the fall golf tournaments at Frostburg's Maplehurst Country Club. Miss Hanna captured the women's title with a 4 and 3 victory over Druella Schriver. Miller made it a double crown by whipping Charley Pinto, 7 and 6, in the men's finals. Miller also won the Maplehurst spring tournament and took the fall title for the second straight year by emerging victorious this past Sunday.

Richmond Ace Week's Star In Conference

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The University of Richmond's Joe Biscacha, a 190-pound senior from Clifton, N. J., was named Southern Conference Player of the Week today for offensive and defensive work Saturday as the Spiders lost to heavily-favored VMI, 12-6.

It was nearly a moral victory for Richmond, a 22-point underdog, for putting VMI's undefeated streak in peril.

Biscacha, who played all 60 minutes, turned in the "best blocking job since he's been here," said Richmond skipper Ed Merrick. He averaged that the Spider attack was geared behind his blocks.

Defensively, Biscacha kept VMI's speedy backs from turning his side of the line. Merrick put it this way: "We stacked our defenses to stop VMI's outside speed. Our ends were supposed to cut across and contain VMI outside by forcing the ball carrier inside. Biscacha never let us down."

Others receiving outstanding performance ratings were Virginia Tech's Billy Holdaway, William and Mary's Dave Edmunds, Furman's Billy Baker and VMI's Pete Johnson.

Pesky Named Manager Of Knoxville Smokies

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Johnny Pesky, a Boston Red Sox infielder for 10 years, has been named manager of the Knoxville Smokies of the Class A South Atlantic League, and Bob Bonifay, general manager of Augusta last season, has been named to a similar post with Knoxville. The club recently signed a working agreement with the Detroit Tigers.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Don Jordan of Los Angeles and Gaspar Ortega of Mexico will follow the low semi-formal dinner at the starting Wednesday over the rugged old course at St. Andrews, Lafayette Hotel with a Oct. 22 but it still shaped up as a close nationally televised rematch. Jordan between the Yanks and Dan scored a split decision over those players representing the Ortega in their welterweight fight; "home countries."

St. Mary's Bows To St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's defending champions defeated St. Mary's in a Catholic Youth League football game at Maryland. The score was 35-13.

Mickey Lantz, Michael McCagh and Toby Scalletta each tallied a season in losing 13-12 to Indiana touchdown and Billy van Horn scored two six-pointers.

Edward Hiett scored both of St. Mary's touchdowns.

ST. PATRICK'S (1 2 2 2-35) ST. MARY'S (0 0 7 0-13)
Touchdowns: St. Patrick's — Lantz, McCagh, Van Horn 2, Toby Scalletta, St. Mary's — Hiett 2.
Extra points: St. Patrick's — Van Horn, Lantz, Zimmerman, Tim Scalletta, Toby Scalletta, St. Mary's — Harold.

MOST LIKELY
CINCINNATI — (NEA) — Cincinnati chooses Jim O'Toole as the young pitcher on its farms most likely to succeed. The opposition has made three young left-handers a lopsided of five two-point tries and four winning record with Nashville, of seven kicks.

WVU Gridders Hitting .600 On Two-Point Tries

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia missed on its most vital extra point try of the season in losing 13-12 to Indiana last Saturday but has batted .600 in tries for the new double extra point.

Statistics showed today the Mountaineers have tried to pass or run after 10 of their 13 touchdowns and made good six of them—including three-for-four in running and three-for-six passing. Two out of three kicks for a single extra point have been good.

Like one of the pass misfires, the lone missed kick was in the Indiana game.

The opposition has made three young left-handers a lopsided of five two-point tries and four winning record with Nashville, of seven kicks.

Ballymoss May Race At Laurel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John McShain says he wants to race Ballymoss, his European horse racing star, in the Washington, D. C. International at Laurel Race Track, Md., Nov. 11.

Ballymoss won the Prix de l'Arc De Triomphe racing classic at Longchamp in Paris Sunday.

McShain, wealthy builder, said yesterday he would wait about a week before making a decision. "Ballymoss is supposed to be a top of the ground runner and not a mudder and the ground was so heavy in Paris yesterday we hope he didn't strain himself," he said.

"We'd like to see what the picture is like a week from now. If there are no bad effects from Sunday's race after a week, we'll be inclined to accept the invitation."

Valley And Beall Seek Win No. 2

Valley High will be out to mark up its second soccer victory of the season when the Black Knights take on the Bruce Bulldogs in a Western Maryland Interscholastic League engagement today at Westernport. The game starts at 3:30 p. m.

The game will be the first for the Bulldogs, while the Black Knights launched their campaign last Friday with a 5-0 conquest of Mt. Savage.

In another WMI contest today Beall High's Mountaineers also will seek their second win of the campaign when they travel to Mt. Savage. Beall whipped Flintstone 3-1 last Friday.

Berra's Double Only Ball Hit Hard, Says Burdette

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lew Burdette, the Yankee killer of 1957, isn't quite ready to abdicate.

"The only ball they hit hard was Yogi Berra's double," said the Milwaukee right-hander about Monday's 7-0 defeat by the New York Yankees. "He hit a sinker downstair (a low ball) to right field."

The 31-year-old pitcher who had beaten the Yankees four straight before his fifth-game knockout, was only slightly subdued in the clubhouse after the game.

"I pitched as well as the other day," he said, referring to his 13-5 victory in the second game. "I just didn't have the atom ball. (Burdette's atom ball is one hit right at 'em). I always said it takes nine men to win a ball game."

"This was the same Yankee club as last week. I had just as much stuff."

Did Lew want another crack at the Yankees?

"It's up to the man (Manager Fred Haney)," he answered. "I'm ready Wednesday if he wants me."

Of the big Yankee, sixth Burdette had this to say:

"The ball (Berra) Bauer hit had eyes. (A single). Mickey (Mantle) dunked a blooper (another single) but they've got to play him deep."

"Berra hit a sinker, and I walked (Elston) Howard on purpose."

"I jammed (Bill) Skowron on the fists. He didn't swing. If he did he would have shattered the ball all over the place. He just punched it (another single that finished Burdette)."

Screws, Rivets, Nails Score Mixed Victories

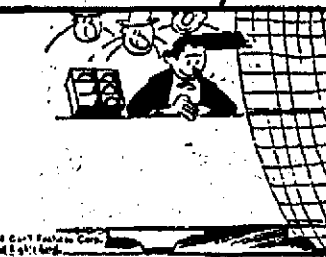

Screws shut out Washers. Rivets blanked Bolts and Nails downed Nuts, 2-1, in Chuckles Mixed League bowling action. The circuit is comprised of bowlers from Cumberland, Frostburg, Lonaconing, Westernport and Piedmont.

Pacing the clubs were Fran Schiller, 212-545; Rivets; Chuckles Kielling, 181-469; Bolts; Bill Smith, 176-495; Screws; Andy Smith, 159-430; Washers; Bill Chapman, 183-507; Nails, and Kenny Logsdon, 168-456; Nuts. Mary Adams of the Screws had high game of 158 and 411 set for the women.

Little Sentinels Blank LaSalle

Fort Hill High School's junior varsity football team rolled to its fourth straight victory yesterday by defeating the LaSalle Jayvees 26 to 0.

Dick Peck opened the scoring when he returned a LaSalle punt 55 yards for a touchdown. Del Helmick plunged for the extra point and later scored another six-pointer in the second period.

Minutes after the second stanza opened Dave Houser grabbed a Richard Parsons pass and raced 31 yards for another Fort Hill score. Peck failed to kick the extra point.

After Helmick scored and Peck converted to give Fort Hill a 20-0 halftime lead the Little Sentinels closed out their scoring when Dave Clem raced 64 yards for the touchdown just after the second half began. Walt Thomas failed on his try for the conversion.

Logart Snaps Stitch's Skein

NEW YORK (UPI) — Welterweight contender Isaac Logart, having recaptured lost prestige by turning the tables on Rudell Stitch, announced today he will have at least five foreign fights before resuming his United States campaign for a title shot.

Cuban Isaac won a unanimous decision over Stitch of Louisville, Ky., in their return 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. The defeat snapped Stitch's winning string at eight straight. Rudell, 10th-ranking contender, had won an upset unanimous verdict over fifth-rated Logart at Louisville, Aug. 27.

Pilfered Passes Defeat Ridgeley

Intercepted passes in the second quarter produced both touchdowns as the Allegany High junior varsity scored a 12-0 victory over the Ridgeley reserves yesterday at Ridgeley.

Fullback Wayne DeHart snatched a Ridgeley aerial and romped 34 yards for the initial six-pointer and minutes later halfback John Powell pilfered another pass and raced 59 yards for the score. Both attempted kicks for the extra points were blocked by the Ridgeley line.

The Little Campers rolled up 185 yards on the ground to Ridgeley's 95, the bulk of the Hawks' yardage being credited to their hard-running fullback, Harold Long. Each team made seven first downs.

Inspired Fun Marks 'Lucy' Debut

By WILLIAM EWALD
UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
NEW YORK (UPI)—CBS-TV's "Father Knows Best," its plot was an improbable mishmash about a checked in for the season Monday night with an hour that contained some pretty inspired fun.

"Lucy Goes To Mexico," was its name and although it seemed like this series, I suspect they're all a pretty wet, pile of kindling at first, it caught fire over its last half, particularly a bit in which Miss Ball played bullfighter.

The Ball-Arnaz combine has been around for many moons now, but as a team Lucy and Desi remain fresh and engagingly wacky.

Unlike almost all of TV's family comedies, there's no child-centered. As a result, they manage to sidestep the sticky simperings that pass for wholesomeness on most of TV's situation comedies.

Unhindered by the need to pour large goblets of self-consciousness into their scripts, Lucy and Desi can operate—like Phil Silvers' "Sgt. Bilko"—in a relatively untamed fashion. They are wild, woolly and at their best, wonderful.

Jack Benny Guest
CBS-TV's "Danny Thomas Show" also sailed in for the fall Monday night with Jack Benny as guest. Benny gave the piece some lift—without him, it would have been a pretty soggy chunk of sponge, wallowing in platitudes and sentimentality like most Thomas shows.

Underwood To Attend
Black Walnut Festival
SPENCER, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. and Mrs. Cecil H. Underwood are expected to be on hand here Saturday for the annual West Virginia Black Walnut Festival parade.

Underwood had been scheduled to crown Judy Furr of Glenville as new festival queen Friday but because of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's appearance that night in Huntington, the governor will miss the parade.

Youngster Runs
On Broken Leg
WEST WARWICK, R.I. (AP)—Kenneth Polliccione, 4, found out he had been running around on a broken leg 10 days after being knocked down by a car. His parents noticed he seemed to be bothered while riding his tricycle. Doctors discovered a fractured lower right leg.

More than 50 major eruptions of Mount Etna, Europe's highest active volcano, have been recorded in history.

'Restless Gun' Star Slanders Horse

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—John Payne, television's "Restless Gun," slandered his horse today, saying "he's a fat slob who refuses to gallop."

Payne complained that his in 105-degree desert location shots mount, Scar, whose off-screen name is John Henry, is a scene-stealing ingrate.

"To begin with, I don't like to ride horses," the Western star said. "And I never expected to make a living this way. But that horse has really crossed me up."

"When we auditioned John Henry he was 200 pounds overweight. But we liked his looks. We signed him up for the duration of the series with the understanding he would lose some of his fat. All well and good. Then, after he was established in the cast he went off his diet."

"Between scenes on location he eats cactus, trees, grass, my lunch—so help me—and once he wolfed down part of a wooden hitching post."

"Then he got lazy. We had to hire two doubles for him and I spent hours daubing them with makeup to look like John Henry."

Payne's frustration is compounded by the fact that he loses six or seven pounds a day working in 105-degree desert location shots while John Henry stuffs himself in the shade.

"Usually we photograph him from the head up because he's so fat. The actor added, "That hurts. He hams it up in the close-make a living this way. But that horse has really crossed me up."

"One thing in his favor, he never blows a scene. He's too lazy."

John Henry has a psychological edge on Payne.

"He knows where his oats come from so he tolerates me. The son-of-a-gun realizes he has the upper hand, and there's nothing I can do about it. I handle all my own stunts, but not John Henry. He has those doubles."

Payne snorted and switched subjects.

"Starring in a TV Western series is the best thing an actor can do," he said. "It keeps us in top physical condition. In addition to horseback riding, the fights, tumbling and rock climbing tighten up the muscles."

John owns 50 per cent of "Restless Gun" and adds to his workload by setting shooting schedules, writing scripts and casting other performers.

Now he is burdened with slimming down John Henry.

"You can't make Westerns with subjects."

J. Goodloe Jackson, Shriver Avenue, has been named a member of the executive committee of the Citizens Committee for the election of the Democratic party's statewide ticket.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all our neighbors and friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, Sarah Elizabeth Johnson. We also want to thank Reverend Noel, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars to the funeral.

Her husband, James H. Johnson and Children.

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Raymond Joseph Brown, Sr. We especially wish to thank Father, Hobbs and Father Walsh, those who sent floral tributes, the pallbearers and those who donated the use of their cars to the funeral and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.

MRS. RAYMOND J. BROWN, SR. AND SONS

In Memoriam

In memory of Robert W. Fleck who passed away 11 years ago today, October 17, 1947.

Dear Bob who was so kind and not forgotten.

Oh, what I would give to hold your hand once more.

Which meant so much to me.

And to see your sweet face and happy smiles.

Sadly missed by Wife and Children

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Clinton S. (Pete) Brown who passed away one year ago, October 6, 1957.

Years of silence often flow.

Memory keeps you ever near us.

Though you left us one year ago.

You are gone but not forgotten.

And our hearts ache for you still.

Forgotten perhaps by others.

But by us you never will.

MRS. CLINTON S. BROWN

Unlucky Expert Unguards Clubs

Written for NEA Service

The unluckiest expert caught me in an unguarded moment and showed me the North and South hands.

"How should they be bid?" he asked.

"Any number of ways would be all right," I replied. "And the final contract should be six."

spades. I suppose you got to six spades and ran into a bad trump break.

"No," he said. "I take bad trump tricks as a matter of course. This time I sat East and did hold the queen-ten-nine-eight of spades. If my opponents had merely bid the normal six spades I would have kept quiet and set them one trick, but South barged into six no-trump.

"He let my partner's queen of diamonds hold the first trick but took the second. Then he cashed the ace of spades and went after the hearts. As you can see, the heart suit broke 3-3 and he was able to run five heart tricks. I discarded the ten of spades on the fourth heart but had to let a club go the next time. This gave South four club tricks and his contract. I think that is bad luck even for me."

"It sure is," I said, "and you know, South could have made six spades also—if he had seen all the cards."

Council Asks Bid On Dump Salvage Right

The Mayor and Council has advertised for bids to lease salvage rights at the city dump, Oldtown Road.

The lease will give the successful bidder exclusive rights to all materials on the dump. Bids will be opened at 10 a. m. October 20. The advertisement followed presentation by Street Commissioner John J. Long at yesterday's meeting of a program designed to set fees for use of the dump by non-residents. Garbage collection costs the city $72,000 a year, which accounts for almost 10 cents in the tax rate.

In another economy move yesterday, council passed an order effective October 16 which removes sick leave and vacation benefits from the 11 school crossing guards. The move is expected to save $1,000.

It pointed out that the current budget of the Police Department is $19,000 less than requested and that the department must reduce operating expenses.

The order pointed out that sick leave and vacations could amount to over 30 days vacation each school year.

Rowan Favors

that if elected he would work for adoption of legislation toward that end.

"If we had a Planning Commission many of the problems now confronting our county could be solved," Rowan said.

Rowan was chairman of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association for two years and a director of the group for 12 years. He was one of 15 men who worked to obtain city water for the LaVale area. Rowan was elected chairman of the LaVale Zoning Board last year. He said that he is working diligently for a sewerage system for the LaVale area and for the county.

A son of the late J. Thomas and Mary Tierney Rowan, he is married to the former Ruth Cox of Tyrone, Pa. The couple has three sons, John T., district manager of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company at Cincinnati; Richard E. (Ted), a dispatcher at Central Trucking of the Celanese Corporation, and Rev. Theodore S. Rowan.

He was educated at St. Peter's parochial school in Westernport and is a graduate of I. C. S. in electrical engineering. He is past exalted ruler and a life member of Cumberland Lodge 63, B. P. O. Elks and a life member of Cumberland Council, Knights of Columbus. He is also a member of the Cumberland Engineering Club.

Del. Noel Speir Cook of Frostburg, as a member of the Legislative Council's sub-committee which is studying the Soldier's Bonus question, will attend a meeting of that body in Salisbury tomorrow night, where a public hearing is being held in the Court House.

From there he will go to Baltimore's City Hall on Friday to attend a meeting of another committee which is investigating the Public Service Commission.

at 2 p. m. by Rev. L. E. Crawson, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church. Interment will be in Philos Cemetery here.

William O'Haire
BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. — William (Eddie) O'Haire, 52, Washington, D. C., died Saturday in General Hospital there.

He was born in the Panama Canal Zone, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William O'Haire.

Mr. O'Haire was formerly a photographer for the Associated Press in Washington, and covered the White House and Capitol Hill during the administrations of Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

After leaving the Associated Press in the late 1930s, he worked for the State Department Information Service and recently had been associated with an advertising and publishing firm in Washington.

He is survived by his widow, Pauline (Michael) O'Haire, a former resident of Berkeley Springs, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Boone, Arlington, Va.

The body is at the Parks Funeral Home where services will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a. m.

Man Arrested On Check Count

Kelvey Cosner, 24, Mt. Storm, was lodged in the Hampshire County Jail at Romney yesterday under $1,000 bond pending action of the December term of Circuit Court.

Cosner was taken before Justice of the Peace A. L. Russell on a charge of forgery.

State Police at Romney said that Cosner was identified as the man who passed a bogus check on September 20 at the office of the Potomac Light and Power Company in that community.

The check for $25 carried a signature of "Ronald Freeman," according to police who said the man was arrested by Trooper Robert Mozingo.

West Virginia Police Arrest Two Escapees

West Virginia State Police at Keyser yesterday apprehended two 17-year-old escapees from the Boys Industrial School at Oakdale, Pa.

The boys were riding in a stolen automobile and were stopped at a road block which had been established after a Rada, W. Va. man said the youths failed to pay for gasoline they purchased at his station earlier in the day.

They are being held in Keyser pending action of Pennsylvania authorities.

Delegate Reed

AN and AM, the Tall Cedars, Jennings Run Jr., O.U.A.M. and Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles and various Republican clubs.

Delegate Reed polled 3,406 votes to win third place among the six Republicans who were nominated for the House of Delegates in the primary election.

He pledges his continued support of further expansion of Frostburg State Teachers College and said he is happy to have had a part in retaining the college at Frostburg and has worked for the many improvements made at this institution.

His record, he said, will show he has always supported the veterans bonus bill and bills to improve education in the county and state, and in the 1958 session sponsored legislation to increase unemployment compensation benefits.

He said he was also privileged to support the bill which made the Savage River Dam possible and the bill "that would give us the much needed and desired C&O Canal Parkway and Recreational Area."

During his legislative career he has served on the Education, Labor, Banking, Insurance and Social Security, Judiciary committees of the House of Delegates and is presently serving on the Ways and Means committee.

His chief hobby is antique cars and he enjoys keeping his 1925 Model T Ford in good working condition.

If re-elected, he "will conscientiously work toward those things that will make Allegany County and the State of Maryland a better place in which to live."

Parking Lot Approved
The Mayor and Council today approved the license application of Eugene T. Gunning for a 12-car monthly-basis parking lot at the rear of 122 North Centre Street.

Price Drops, Costs Deplete Farm Ranks

BUCKHANNON, W. Va. (UPI) — Falling prices and rising costs have caused 4,000,000 Americans to give up farming since 1952, Democratic Senate nominee Jennings Randolph of Elkins told a rally here Monday night.

Randolph said that the Eisenhower administration's farm policies "are steadily destroying farming as a way of life" and have caused some 600,000 farms to be "liquidated."

He said that one of the "primary causes" for the drop in the number of farms is a loss of $18 billion in farmers' income from 1952 through 1957. He said that last year, farmers lost $3.7 billion in income.

Randolph told the gathering that farmers "have been caught in the squeeze between lower income and inflated costs" as a result of what he called "economic policies of the present national administration."

GOP's

"Our national defense has deteriorated... as the Republican administration has dissipated our lead in science weapons and sapped the strength of our regular armed forces," D'Alesandro declared.

He criticized the Republicans for what he called lack of an effective blueprint in foreign policy, and a breakdown in the nation's intelligence which should have better alerted us to developments in Egypt, Iraq and Hungary.

Tawes devoted his radio time to ticking off items in the party plank which he considered of special interest to southern Marylanders.

Beall spoke on a theme dear to Eastern Shore folks — state's rights, stating, "As long as I am in Congress I'm going to encourage individuals to live their own lives. Our country was built on the private initiative system. I believe in individual rights, state's rights—that's why I want to go back to Congress."
